Girl, Boy Chosen Honor Students

JANE BENDHEIM

JOHN ROHRER

Miss Bendheim, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bendheim, 3169 St. Clair Ave., earned valedictorian honors with a 4.167 average for her high school career.

SON OF Mr. and Mrs. Emil B. Rohrer of Forsyth Pl., Rohrer, 18, finished his scholastic career with an average of 4.088 to become salutatorian.

Also maintaining an all "A" average and narrowly missing out for salutatorian was James Baxter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Baxter, 1100 Pope Ave., who compiled a 4.065 average.

A point average of 4 generally is considered perfect, but in recent years the high school has offered merit classes for outstanding students in some subjects. To recognize those students, an A is worth 5 points and a B is worth 4.

THE OTHERS in the top 10 with their averages were:

Barbara Sneddon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sneddon, 1035 Ambrose Ave., fourth, 3.897; Kathlyn Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wilson of Lisbon St., fifth, 3.844; Sandra Ow-

Move For Better Relations

Laos Troops Are Fleeing To Thailand

Red Rebels Seize Outpost 100 Miles Beyond Truce Line

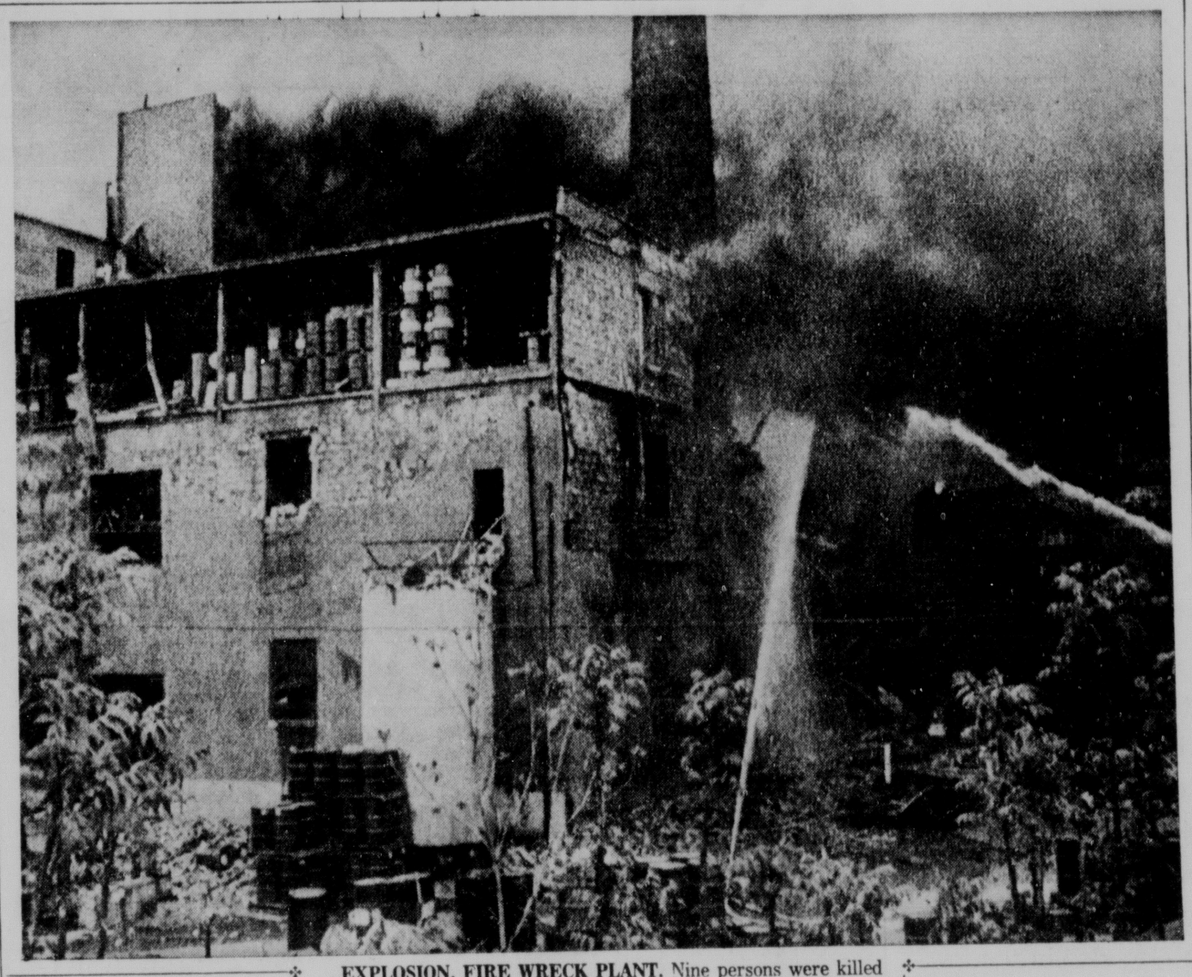

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Royal Laotian troops were reported fleeing across the Mekong River into friendly Thailand today as pro-Communist forces seized Houei Sai more than 100 miles beyond the cease-fire line.

The Red rebels drove forward to capture the government outpost on the Mekong border and complete their occupation of the whole of northwest Laos in defiance of a demand from their neutralist ally Prince Souvanna Phouma, to halt their offensive.

The shattering of the year-old truce raised growing concern in the U.S. government, which has been pressuring Prince Boun Oum's anti-Communist Vientiane regime to come to terms with the neutralists and Red-lining Prince Souphanouvong and form a national unity government.

Officials of the Kennedy administration still held hopes the pro-Communist Pathet Lao forces would be checked. But informants in Washington said some U. S. forces conceivably could become involved in Laos if the Reds try to overrun the whole of the jungle kingdom.

The Vientiane defense ministry announced the pro-Communist forces moved into Houei Sai today after overrunning government troops fighting a rearguard action Wednesday.

$1.2 Billion Savings Due Firms In '62

Government Order Will Take Effect In June Or July

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—The Kennedy administration made a major move today toward better relations with business by announcing that liberalization of tax depreciation write-offs will be ordered soon.

Unofficial estimates set the 1962 tax savings at about $1.25 billion for big and little businessmen.

The announcement was made at a singularly appropriate forum—the Business Council, an organization of major industrialists headed by Chairman Roger M. Blough of U.S. Steel Corp., President Kennedy's chief antagonist in the April steel price tussle. Big Steel rolled back its price increases under pressures from Kennedy.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon sent the word that the revision is now in its final stages. He said the write-offs will be ordered into effect late next month or in July at the latest.

Dillon, detained in Washington by congressional hearings, was unable to attend today's opening session of the Business Council's spring meeting. Undersecretary Henry H. Fowler read Dillon's speech at the closed-door session, after giving copies to newsmen.

As if in direct reply to those who have charged since the steel battle that the Kennedy administration is antibusiness, Fowler told the 100 assembled corporation heads:

"Our depreciation revision as a whole will, indeed, be meaningful to American industry and to the entire American economy.

"Can anyone any longer doubt this?"

The Treasury official gave no actual figures and made no estimate of the amount industry would save—and the Treasury would lose—by shortening the periods in which companies can write off the cost of new machinery and equipment.

But, he said the bigger annual deductions it will permit will take effect in this 1962 tax year, will be usable as a matter of right by all taxpayers, and will apply to machines and equipment already in use as well as to those bought subsequently.

His words dispelled suspicions voice in some quarters that there would be only a token liberalization, or that the prospect of faster depreciation was being used merely as bait to induce businessmen to support the other key elements of the administration's tax program—the bill providing a tax credit for investment made in modernization.

Together, Dillon has declared, the twin tax measures will give U.S. industry a better tax break than their long-envied foreign competitors. And, he has said, they should stimulate the kind of plant improvements that can bring American exporters closer to cost equality in world markets.

Fowler assured the business leaders that the guidelines are rooted in reality—that they recognized the more rapid obsolescence of industrial equipment in an era of changing technology.

He left no doubt that the new rules will go into effect regardless of the fate of the tax credit legislation, and disclosed also that:

The new rules will be vastly simpler than those set forth in the Treasury's existing, 20-year-old Bulletin F. Instead of specifying official useful lives for 5,000 separate items, there will be only a handful of broad classes of items for each industry.

U.S. Experts Insist Rocket Hit The Moon

Khrushchev Claims It Didn't, Offers No Scientific Facts

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—There was no one there to watch, early April 26, when U.S. spacecraft Ranger 4 came cruising around the edge of a bright half moon.

American scientists said it fell, there on the moon's hidden back side, pulled into the lunar crust by gravity. And no one disputed them—until Thursday.

Then Soviet Premier Khrushchev declared that no U.S. rocket had hit the moon.

He offered no scientific facts to back up his statement—just the taunting comment that the Soviet marker on the moon is getting lonesome, up there, waiting for an American companion.

"Nonsense," replied scientists at Pasadena's Jet Propulsion Laboratory, who built Ranger 4 and tracked it to its lunar rendezvous. "We hit the moon," they said.

Observers noted that there was no one on the moon when the Red lunik made its 1959 landing, either.

Although Hungarian astronomers claimed seeing a dust cloud when the lunik crashed, and two British astronomers said they saw a pinpoint of light which could have been lunik's impact, it was radio data which convinced the world's experts that the spacecraft had really gotten there.

U.S. scientists have similar radio data to back up their statement that Ranger made it to the moon, too.

Plastic Workers Win 13½-Cent Wage Boost

Members of Local Union 311 employed at Royalon, Inc., a Logansport (Ind.) plastics plant, have signed a new contract providing for a 13½-cent hourly wage boost spread across two years, the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters said today.

In addition to the general increase, maintenance men were granted an extra 9 cents hourly; maintenance helpers, 4 cents, and mold operators, 5 cents, the IBOP said.

A 7-cent across-the-board boost is provided for the first year of the contract, with a 6½-cent hike taking effect at the beginning of the second year. In addition, the workers will get an additional paid holiday, beginning the second year, for a total of seven. The agreement also sets up vacation time graduated according to service.

Senate Eyes Public Airing In Estes Deals

Wide-Scale Inquiry Seen Loaded With Political Dynamite

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators said today they hope to launch within a month their public hearings on Texas financier Billie Sol Estes and his dealings with government officials.

The subcommittee has more than a dozen agents in the field now trying to sift fact from fiction in tracing Estes' financial manipulations. Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., maintained silence on details of what they are finding.

The subcommittee seeks to learn whether influence in Washington helped Estes to run up a fortune under the government's farm program.

A Texas court of inquiry has turned up evidence that Estes profited hugely on government grain storage contracts, some unusual manipulations of cotton acreage allotments, fertilizer sales and other areas of the program designed to bolster the agricultural industry.

A federal grand jury indicted Estes for fraud in connection with chattel mortgages he was charged with selling on nonexistent fertilizer tanks. The department has canceled his 1961 marketing allotments and levied $554,162 in marketing penalties against him for alleged illegal dealings in cotton acreage allotments.

The names of several Congress members and officials of the Agriculture and Labor departments have bobbed up publicly in the course of the various investigations of Estes.

Astronaut Carpenter's Orbit Effort Delayed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The attempt to launch astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter into orbit around the earth, scheduled for May 17, has been delayed, informed sources reported today.

There were indications the delay would be several days. There was no immediate word from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The informant said the delay was necessary to correct troubles in the attitude control system of the capsule, which is in place atop the Atlas booster on launch pad 14.

Diamond Site Provided For Bus Lay-Over

City Council cleared the way Thursday night for two transit companies to move out of the Bus Terminal, effective Monday, and begin using the Diamond as a central lay-over stop for all their runs.

No legislation was enacted to implement the change, but a motion was approved unanimously asking Safety - Service Director Robert Owen to work out the details of the change.

Tri-State Transit Co. and Inter-City Transit Co. previously were asked to discontinue use of the terminal by the building owners, who will begin remodeling of the concourse in preparation for leasing it as the new site of the local State Liquor Store.

The motion requesting the director to work out the details of the switch to the Diamond was made by Councilman Frank Duffy, chairman of the franchise committee. It was approved without comment.

Under the City Code, the director and the police chief have the power to make temporary changes in traffic and parking regulations for periods of up to 90 days. It was under this law that Duffy's motion asked Owen to act.

Details of the proposed change were explained to Council by Duffy Monday night. He said Wellsville and Newell buses will halt on the west side of the Diamond and all other lines — Chester, North Side, East End and Pleasant Heights — will use the east side.

The same system was used prior to World War II — before the present terminal building was erected.

About five years ago, the same companies abandoned use of the terminal for a time. They used E. 5th St. between Washington St. and Crook Alley as their "outdoor terminal."

Because several members were working afternoon shifts, Council's special session was held at 11:30 to authorize the change.

Toronto Pair Suspected In Store Looting

TV Receiver, Cash, Quanity Of Goods Taken At Irondale

Two Toronto men are being held today in Steubenville as suspects in connection with the theft of a new television receiver, cash, and quantitites of meat and other items from an Irondale grocery store early this morning.

Joseph Wasiloff, 26, of 208 W. 4th St., and Richard Turick, 24, of 604 N. 5th St., are being held by Jefferson County sheriff's deputies on suspicion of burglary.

The pair were arrested in Irondale at 2:15 a. m. by Village Constable Oliver Nicholson, who said Turick became alarmed by a passing car and backed his waiting vehicle over an embankment while Wasiloff was inside the Paisley Bros. grocery store committing the robbery.

Constable Nicholson was called to the scene by Roger Raffle of Irondale, who had been putting his car away and was told by a woman who resides nearby that she heard noises at the store.

Meanwhile, the pair had loaded a new television receiver worth $260 in the rear seat of their waiting car, and two large pork loins and a box of bacon in the trunk, according to deputies, who said Wasiloff then returned to the store.

Deputies said Turick, the driver, apparently became alarmed by a passing car and in his excitement to turn around and leave the village, backed his car over an embankment.

Brilliant Youth Killed, One Injured In Wreck

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—One youth was killed and another injured Thursday night when their automobile overturned and crashed into a tree on Ohio 151 just east of Smithfield.

Paul Dunn, 20, also of Brilliant, was reported in serious condition at the hospital. Officers said they had not determined which of the youths was driving.

Chemical Plant Ripped

9 Killed, 46 Hurt In Toledo Blast

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Firemen continued today to probe the charred debris of a chemical plant where an explosion Thursday killed at least nine persons and injured 46.

Authorities said the body of one person still unaccounted for may be in the debris of the Maumee Chemical Co. All the dead were company employes.

Great clouds of multi-colored smoke—at one point it was a brilliant orange—rolled over the city as chemicals in the plant burned.

Streets were littered with glass from windows shattered by the force of the explosion.

"I'm damned lucky to be alive," commented Wilfred C. Lauer, manager of a grocery store across the street from the plant. The plant was located on the east bank of the Maumee River. The downtown area is on the west bank, less than a quarter mile away.

Lauer said he and a customer fled the store after one minor explosion inside the plant. When an alarm stopped ringing, the grocer said he returned to his store.

Then, "There was a terrific explosion. . . There was debris flying . . . The building just collapsed," he added.

In a nearby office building, 73-year-old Charles Bigley said he was walking away from his desk near a window when the chemical plant went "boom."

Bigley said the blast "just lifted me up. For a minute or two I couldn't breathe."

Window glass sprayed his desk, he said, adding:

"The good Lord was with me that time."

The cause of the blast?

"It could have been caused by a lot of things. . . . We may never know," said R. H. Baldwin, company chief engineer.

Officials declined to estimate the amount of damage.

A building across the street sagged under the force of the explosion. Homes were jolted, cracking plaster, floors and ceilings. Police and firemen evacuated families from the area when fumes and the possibility of additional explosions threatened the area.

900 Sympathizers Nabbed

Student Hunger Strikers Arrested In Portugal Raid

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Police swept into the University of Lisbon at dawn today and arrested 87 student hunger strikers and more than 900 sympathizers in a crackdown on university demonstrators.

At a professor's urging, the demonstrators put up no resistance. But the hunger strikers, spearheading a boycott of classes by nearly 5,000 other students, vowed to continue their fast until Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar's dictatorship gives in to their demands.

The demonstrators, including other students, parents and friends of the fasters, were carried off in buses to police headquarters for interrogation. Those detained were offered breakfast. The hunger strikers—who include eight girls—refused.

"We will carry on the hunger strike, wherever they carry us to," a spokesman told newsmen. "No one can make us eat against our will."

The hunger strikers had shut themselves in the university canteen since Wednesday to press their demands for less government interference in university affairs and for return of privileges taken away for earlier demonstrations. Four doctors stayed with them.

Police armed with machine guns and tear gas mortars Thursday surrounded student association headquarters in Lisbon and Coimbra, 110 miles to the northeast, where a similar strike was in progress.

Air Pollution Parley Slated At Midland

Crucible Officials, Councilmen Will Confer Next Week

Councilman Joseph D'Alesio told Midland Council Thursday evening that talks with the Crucible Steel Co. on smoke control have been set tentatively for sometime next week.

He said the exact time depends on when Council's three - man committee, specially appointed at a meeting last month can attend.

D'Alesio said Crucible was contacted through is labor relations department and the tentative meeting with the company was set for next week with the Local 1212 United Steelworkers committee and that of Council.

Councilmen Raymond Presutti and William Shovlin said they would contact Councilman Lester Trainer, who was absent, and decide on a time and inform D'Alesio.

D'Alesio, who is also president of the large Crucible local, and James Mullen, union staff representative, protested at a meeting last month against smoke emitted at the mill by an oxygen process. They said it affects the health of residents and creates damage. Councilmen were in agreement and court action was hinted if the company does not remedy the condition.

D'Alesio also reported that through the union's legislative committee, the chairman of smoke control for Beaver County was contacted. He said there are forms availble for protesting if there is no satisfaction after talks with Crucible then the complaint can be taken to the public to proceed against the pollution.

Councilman Steve Germusa cautioned D'Alesio against accepting any long-range plan of the company. D'Alesio said a remedy is wanted right away, not something prolonged.

Council has at various times protested the condition, particularly late last summer, when household windows and doors are open. Crucible replied and an open letter to employes advised them of the company's concern. The company has not made any statements following the recent protests.

Mrs. C. K. O'Hara, secretary, read a letter from the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, asking Council to protest the curtailment of the Midland freight station to

$1.2 Billion Savings Due Firms In '62

Government Order Will Take Effect In June Or July

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—The Kennedy administration made a major move today toward better relations with business by announcing that liberalization of tax depreciation write-offs will be ordered soon.

Unofficial estimates set the 1962 tax savings at about $1.25 billion for big and little businessmen.

The announcement was made at a singularly appropriate forum—the Business Council, an organization of major industrialists headed by Chairman Roger M. Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon sent the word that the revision is now in its final stages. He said the write-offs will be ordered into effect late next month or in July at the latest.

Dillon, detained in Washington by congressional hearings, was unable to attend today's opening session of the Business Council's spring meeting. Undersecretary Henry H. Fowler read Dillon's speech at the closed-door session, after giving copies to newsmen.

In addition to the general increase, maintenance men were granted an extra 9 cents hourly; maintenance helpers, 4 cents, and mold operators, 5 cents, the IBOP said.

Senate Eyes Public Airing In Estes Deals

Wide-Scale Inquiry Seen Loaded With Political Dynamite

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators said today they hope to launch within a month their public hearings on Texas financier Billie Sol Estes and his dealings with government officials.

The subcommittee has more than a dozen agents in the field now trying to sift fact from fiction in tracing Estes' financial manipulations. Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., maintained silence on details of what they are finding.

The subcommittee seeks to learn whether influence in Washington helped Estes to run up a fortune under the government's farm program.

A Texas court of inquiry has turned up evidence that Estes profited hugely on government grain storage contracts, some unusual manipulations of cotton acreage allotments, fertilizer sales and other areas of the program designed to bolster the agricultural industry.

A federal grand jury indicted Estes for fraud in connection with chattel mortgages he was charged with selling on nonexistent fertilizer tanks. The names of several Congress members and officials of the Agriculture and Labor departments have bobbed up publicly in the course of the various investigations of Estes.

Astronaut Carpenter's Orbit Effort Delayed

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The attempt to launch astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter into orbit around the earth, scheduled for May 17, has been delayed, informed sources reported today.

There were indications the delay would be several days. There was no immediate word from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The informant said the delay was necessary to correct troubles in the attitude control system of the capsule, which is in place atop the Atlas booster on launch pad 14.

Diamond Site Provided For Bus Lay-Over

City Council cleared the way Thursday night for two transit companies to move out of the Bus Terminal, effective Monday, and begin using the Diamond as a central lay-over stop for all their runs.

No legislation was enacted to implement the change, but a motion was approved unanimously asking Safety - Service Director Robert Owen to work out the details of the change.

Tri-State Transit Co. and Inter-City Transit Co. previously were asked to discontinue use of the terminal by the building owners, who will begin remodeling of the concourse in preparation for leasing it as the new site of the local State Liquor Store.

The motion requesting the director to work out the details of the switch to the Diamond was made by Councilman Frank Duffy, chairman of the franchise committee. It was approved without comment.

Under the City Code, the director and the police chief have the power to make temporary changes in traffic and parking regulations for periods of up to 90 days. It was under this law that Duffy's motion asked Owen to act.

Details of the proposed change were explained to Council by Duffy Monday night. He said Wellsville and Newell buses will halt on the west side of the Diamond and all other lines — Chester, North Side, East End and Pleasant Heights — will use the east side.

The same system was used prior to World War II — before the present terminal building was erected.

About five years ago, the same companies abandoned use of the terminal for a time. They used E. 5th St. between Washington St. and Crook Alley as their "outdoor terminal."

Because several members were working afternoon shifts, Council's special session was held at 11:30 to authorize the change.

Toronto Pair Suspected In Store Looting

Two Toronto men are being held today in Steubenville as suspects in connection with the theft of a new television receiver, cash, and quantitites of meat and other items from an Irondale grocery store early this morning.

Joseph Wasiloff, 26, of 208 W. 4th St., and Richard Turick, 24, of 604 N. 5th St., are being held by Jefferson County sheriff's deputies on suspicion of burglary.

The pair were arrested in Irondale at 2:15 a. m. by Village Constable Oliver Nicholson, who said Turick became alarmed by a passing car and backed his waiting vehicle over an embankment while Wasiloff was inside the Paisley Bros. grocery store committing the robbery.

Constable Nicholson was called to the scene by Roger Raffle of Irondale, who had been putting his car away and was told by a woman who resides nearby that she heard noises at the store.

Meanwhile, the pair had loaded a new television receiver worth $260 in the rear seat of their waiting car, and two large pork loins and a box of bacon in the trunk, according to deputies, who said Wasiloff then returned to the store.

Deputies said Turick, the driver, apparently became alarmed by a passing car and in his excitement to turn around and leave the village, backed his car over an embankment.

900 Sympathizers Nabbed

Student Hunger Strikers Arrested In Portugal Raid

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Police swept into the University of Lisbon at dawn today and arrested 87 student hunger strikers and more than 900 sympathizers in a crackdown on university demonstrators.

At a professor's urging, the demonstrators put up no resistance. But the hunger strikers, spearheading a boycott of classes by nearly 5,000 other students, vowed to continue their fast until Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar's dictatorship gives in to their demands.

The demonstrators, including other students, parents and friends of the fasters, were carried off in buses to police headquarters for interrogation. Those detained were offered breakfast. The hunger strikers—who include eight girls—refused.

"We will carry on the hunger strike, wherever they carry us to," a spokesman told newsmen. "No one can make us eat against our will."

The hunger strikers had shut themselves in the university canteen since Wednesday to press their demands for less government interference in university affairs and for return of privileges taken away for earlier demonstrations. Four doctors stayed with them.

Police armed with machine guns and tear gas mortars Thursday surrounded student association headquarters in Lisbon and Coimbra, 110 miles to the northeast, where a similar strike was in progress.

Air Pollution Parley Slated At Midland

Crucible Officials, Councilmen Will Confer Next Week

Councilman Joseph D'Alesio told Midland Council Thursday evening that talks with the Crucible Steel Co. on smoke control have been set tentatively for sometime next week.

He said the exact time depends on when Council's three - man committee, specially appointed at a meeting last month can attend.

D'Alesio said Crucible was contacted through is labor relations department and the tentative meeting with the company was set for next week with the Local 1212 United Steelworkers committee and that of Council.

Councilmen Raymond Presutti and William Shovlin said they would contact Councilman Lester Trainer, who was absent, and decide on a time and inform D'Alesio.

D'Alesio, who is also president of the large Crucible local, and James Mullen, union staff representative, protested at a meeting last month against smoke emitted at the mill by an oxygen process. They said it affects the health of residents and creates damage. Councilmen were in agreement and court action was hinted if the company does not remedy the condition.

D'Alesio also reported that through the union's legislative committee, the chairman of smoke control for Beaver County was contacted. He said there are forms availble for protesting if there is no satisfaction after talks with Crucible then the complaint can be taken to the public to proceed against the pollution.

Councilman Steve Germusa cautioned D'Alesio against accepting any long-range plan of the company. D'Alesio said a remedy is wanted right away, not something prolonged.

Council has at various times protested the condition, particularly late last summer, when household windows and doors are open. Crucible replied and an open letter to employes advised them of the company's concern. The company has not made any statements following the recent protests.

Mrs. C. K. O'Hara, secretary, read a letter from the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, asking Council to protest the curtailment of the Midland freight station to

Symphony Orchestra Concert To End Season

William Haaker will conduct the Virginia Symphony Orchestra in the final concert of the year for the Tri-State Civic Music Association Sunday at 3 p. m. at Westgate School.

Recognized as one of the important American conductors, Haaker has been founding and conducting symphonies for a quarter of a century.

He was a member of the faculty of the University of Arkansas but resigned because of the pressure of his concert career. He divides his time between some 100 piano recitals each season through the nation and his permanent conductorship of the symphony.

A favorite on ABC's Piano Playhouse, Haaker annually tours for Community and Civic Music Associations and as far afield as the Netherlands, Mexico and Cuba.

He is the recipient of the Arkansas Traveler Award and his pioneering work with the Arkansas Symphony was read into the Congressional Record.

The Virginia orchestra was born in part from the urge of a growing group of musicians from the major orchestras to gather in Virginia for special experience together under the Haaker baton.

WILLIAM HAAKER
Directs Civic Music Group.

Besides it's "at home" concerts in the Virginias, the ensemble of 24 artists tours each season through the deep South, into New Jersey and New England, and centrally into Michigan, totaling some 50 concerts annually.

Offices Told Watch Funds

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners Thursday authorized letters to be sent to all officeholders, advising that since the two county levies were defeated at the primary, they must "live within the appropriations released to them April 1."

Galen Greenisen and Walter Hunston, who signed the letter, thanked voters for passing the retarded children's levy and said this would relieve the general fund in the future.

Commissioners are also preparing a letter to state officials, notifying them of the failure of the County Home levy, and requesting additional time to consider a solution to the problem at the home.

The state fire marshal had advised them to seek a 60-day extension on a deadline to provide improvements at the home, and to arrange a meeting in the next two months with other state agencies.

In other business, they authorized the payment of $29 to East Liverpool for 58 dogs destroyed in April. Next meeting is Monday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

'Secession' Heard Again In Panhandle

West Virginians who have advocated both in jest and in anger that the Northern Panhandle should secede from the state have realized their wish — to a degree at least.

Imprinted boldly on the back of an envelope containing the annual applications for license plates in Wheeling Thursday was a map of the state of West Virginia—minus the Northern Panhandle.

The error was called to the attention of Gov. W. W. Barron, who referred the issue to Jack A. Nuckols, commissioner of motor vehicles. He took it up with the printers. It was all a mistake, Nuckols said, explaining that he had put the map on the envelope to promote the state's cleanup campaign.

The printers replied that due to the physical makeup of the application and the envelope, it was impossible to extend the end of the Northern Panhandle over the flap of the envelope.

So, it was just lopped off, causing a furor by red-necked car owners yesterday.

Some Northern Panhandle residents, who live between the squeezing proximity of Ohio and Pennsylvania, have advocated in the past that the three or four upper counties secede from the state because of continuing clashes in customs and the nearness to the Buckeye and Keystone States.

Judge Banishes Man Charged In Hammer Threat

James F. Thomas of W. 3rd St. was ordered to leave East Liverpool before midnight after Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff convicted him today on a charge of threatening assault with a hammer Thursday morning on his uncle, Al Harvey, also of W. 3rd St.

The judge suspended imposition of sentence after Thomas said he planned to leave for Denver to take a job in a hospital.

Harvey, 300 W. 3rd St., testified Thomas lived rent-free for the last year in a basement room in the adjoining house which is occupied by Harvey's sister—mother of Thomas. Thomas, unemployed the entire time, had been drinking heavily, he said.

Harvey testified he ordered Thomas to vacate the room not later than Wednesday. To reinforce the order, he said, he spiked the door shut. Investigating a noise yesterday about 7:40 a. m., he rounded a corner between the two houses and found Thomas with the hammer upraised, threatening: " 'I'll kill you'," Harvey testified.

Thomas admitted making a verbal threat, but blamed his actions on drinking. After ordering him out of town, Judge Chertoff said he will be jailed if found here Saturday. Police escorted Thomas to the room to obtain his clothes and then saw him out of town on Route 30.

Gluchow To Attend B'nai B'rith Session

Martin Gluchow of St. Clair Ave., former president of B'nai B'rith's Midwestern District, is a delegate to the organization's triennial convention which opens Saturday at Washington.

About 1,200 delegates and guests are expected to attend.

Fellow Member Talks For Breeders' Group

LISBON — Harold McCullough of Salem R.D., Columbiana County's representative on the state Board of Directors of the Central Ohio Breeders Association, spoke at the annual state session in February at a meeting of the county COBA committee Thursday evening in the farm extension office.

The committee also discussed its County exhibit and awards to be presented at the fair.

Recognized as one of the important American conductors, Haaker has been founding and conducting symphonies for a quarter of a century.

He was a member of the faculty of the University of Arkansas but resigned because of the pressure of his concert career. He divides his time between some 100 piano recitals each season through the nation and his permanent conductorship of the symphony.

A favorite on ABC's Piano Playhouse, Haaker annually tours for Community and Civic Music Associations and as far afield as the Netherlands, Mexico and Cuba.

He is the recipient of the Arkansas Traveler Award and his pioneering work with the Arkansas Symphony was read into the Congressional Record.

The Virginia orchestra was born in part from the urge of a growing group of musicians from the major orchestras to gather in Virginia for special experience together under the Haaker baton.

Directs Civic Music Group.

Besides it's "at home" concerts in the Virginias, the ensemble of 24 artists tours each season through the deep South, into New Jersey and New England, and centrally into Michigan, totaling some 50 concerts annually.

Offices Told Watch Funds

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners Thursday authorized letters to be sent to all officeholders, advising that since the two county levies were defeated at the primary, they must "live within the appropriations released to them April 1."

Galen Greenisen and Walter Hunston, who signed the letter, thanked voters for passing the retarded children's levy and said this would relieve the general fund in the future.

Commissioners are also preparing a letter to state officials, notifying them of the failure of the County Home levy, and requesting additional time to consider a solution to the problem at the home.

The state fire marshal had advised them to seek a 60-day extension on a deadline to provide improvements at the home, and to arrange a meeting in the next two months with other state agencies.

In other business, they authorized the payment of $29 to East Liverpool for 58 dogs destroyed in April. Next meeting is Monday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

'Secession' Heard Again In Panhandle

West Virginians who have advocated both in jest and in anger that the Northern Panhandle should secede from the state have realized their wish — to a degree at least.

Imprinted boldly on the back of an envelope containing the annual applications for license plates in Wheeling Thursday was a map of the state of West Virginia—minus the Northern Panhandle.

The error was called to the attention of Gov. W. W. Barron, who referred the issue to Jack A. Nuckols, commissioner of motor vehicles. He took it up with the printers. It was all a mistake, Nuckols said, explaining that he had put the map on the envelope to promote the state's cleanup campaign.

The printers replied that due to the physical makeup of the application and the envelope, it was impossible to extend the end of the Northern Panhandle over the flap of the envelope.

So, it was just lopped off, causing a furor by red-necked car owners yesterday.

Some Northern Panhandle residents, who live between the squeezing proximity of Ohio and Pennsylvania, have advocated in the past that the three or four upper counties secede from the state because of continuing clashes in customs and the nearness to the Buckeye and Keystone States.

Judge Banishes Man Charged In Hammer Threat

James F. Thomas of W. 3rd St. was ordered to leave East Liverpool before midnight after Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff convicted him today on a charge of threatening assault with a hammer Thursday morning on his uncle, Al Harvey, also of W. 3rd St.

The judge suspended imposition of sentence after Thomas said he planned to leave for Denver to take a job in a hospital.

Harvey, 300 W. 3rd St., testified Thomas lived rent-free for the last year in a basement room in the adjoining house which is occupied by Harvey's sister—mother of Thomas. Thomas, unemployed the entire time, had been drinking heavily, he said.

Harvey testified he ordered Thomas to vacate the room not later than Wednesday. To reinforce the order, he said, he spiked the door shut. Investigating a noise yesterday about 7:40 a. m., he rounded a corner between the two houses and found Thomas with the hammer upraised, threatening: " 'I'll kill you'," Harvey testified.

Thomas admitted making a verbal threat, but blamed his actions on drinking. After ordering him out of town, Judge Chertoff said he will be jailed if found here Saturday. Police escorted Thomas to the room to obtain his clothes and then saw him out of town on Route 30.

Gluchow To Attend B'nai B'rith Session

Martin Gluchow of St. Clair Ave., former president of B'nai B'rith's Midwestern District, is a delegate to the organization's triennial convention which opens Saturday at Washington.

About 1,200 delegates and guests are expected to attend.

Fellow Member Talks For Breeders' Group

LISBON — Harold McCullough of Salem R.D., Columbiana County's representative on the state Board of Directors of the Central Ohio Breeders Association, spoke at the annual state session in February at a meeting of the county COBA committee Thursday evening in the farm extension office.

The committee also discussed its County exhibit and awards to be presented at the fair.

Policy In The White House

President Kennedy is having a tough time explaining how and why he is for and not for economic controls. Don't be surprised if he never brings it off.

The young president is revealing one of the aspects of his youthfulness in this matter—and perhaps not only his personal youthfulness. The youthfulness of some of his close advisers may be cropping out. This was a case of going off half-cocked.

When Mr. Kennedy lambasted the steel corporations for increasing the tonnage price of steel, he took a policy position. He took it strongly and stridently. He shocked the business segment of the United States with a revelation that he had nursed a slumbering anger against businessmen; that his own businessman father had told him once that all businessmen were an unprintable name; that he intended to whiplash them with every punitive power at his command for the effrontery of doing what all of them had been saying they would have to do eventually.

WHEN THE repercussions began to echo in the White House, President Kennedy tried to soften the impact of his executive anger. He tried to explain that he had not really taken a policy position but had only indicated how he thought things should be and would be if everybody had the right motives.

When union leaders wondered if he thought things should be the same in their part of the economic forest as they were in the business part of the forest, he had to start hedging. Walter Reuther, his principal sponsor among the labor-leader-politicians finaly served notice that he had no intention of having his negotiating ears pinned back. George Meany also had made himself clear on this point. He wanted no wage restraint.

President Kennedy in turn served notice he didn't want to pin anyone's ears back—and that is how things stand now. The young President has marched up the hill and marched back down again.

He is for stablizied prices but . . .
He is for stabilized wages but . . .
He is for stabilized everything but . . .

THAT ISN'T the way it works when you are the No. 1 citizen in the White House. You cannot have your cake and eat it too.

When you are the chief executive policy maker, you make policy and stick with it or you are asking to be run ragged by every Tom, Dick and Harry who would like to interpret your policy to suit himself.

And also every Roger, Walter and Arthur, to name a few more of the numerous parties involved in this matter of how much inflation the economy can stand to avert the deflation that nobody wants.

This Could Clear The Air

Next week, amid nervous coughing and rustling of paper, a 15-member court of international judges will hear the evidence on a case that could make or break the United States.

The International Court of Justice at The Hague will be preparing to rule on the question: Do expenditures to support the U.N. police forces in the Congo and the Gaza Strip constitute "expenses of the organization"?

Article 17 of the U.S. Charter provides that "expenses" shall be borne by the members "as apportioned by the General Assembly." Article 19 says members in arrears shall have no vote in the General Assembly, if the amount due equals or exceeds the amount of the contributions due for the preceding two full years.

THE QUARREL is over special operations of the United Nations. All members agree that routine expenses must be borne equitably. The Soviet Union holds the position that assessments for peacekeeping operations like the Congo action should be paid by the nations "primarily responsible for the state of affairs necessitating them." France also takes this position, along with South Africa, Spain and Portugal.

The United States argues that payment of assessments for military operations approved by a majority of U.N. voters is mandatory. This is the issue that goes before the International Court by a 52-11 vote of the General Assembly.

Its decision will be advisory. It cannot be enforced. But in view of the fact the court's ruling will be official and that only 16 of the 105 U.N. members are paid up at the present time, the United States has been meeting more than half the expenses since 1946, this would be the ideal time for a showdown.

THE UNITED STATES would be well within its rights if it served notice that beginning the first fiscal year after the International Court's advisory decision, no matter which way it happened to fall, it would pay no more than one third of the total expenses of the United Nations.

In what other way can the United States ever hope to convince the other 103 members that it has no desire whatever to save the United Nations unless they want it saved; that it is a truly international organization or it is nothing at all?

Speaking One's Mind

Sincere and intelligent appraisals of governmental policy from City Hall to Columbus and Washington always have been a chief responsibility of good citizenship, not just at election time, but the year around.

Problems at the various levels of administration continue to require close public attention. And, as columnist David Lawrence has pointed out, criticism should be voiced openly to provide a recognizable public attitude.

There has been no reticence in the East Liverpool area on the part of speakers to attack certain federal policies. The president of the county medical society has hit at the proposed medical care for the aged bill and the president of the Hanna Coal Co. has urged a stand against what he believes are trends toward inhibition of free enterprise and initiative.

These outspoken declarations, regardless of their political or economic color, are welcomed by observers of everyday life who have been thinking that local public criticism of the federal government has become shy or indifferent.

It is reassuring to learn that such criticism is not the sole activity of newspaper editors and columnists and that those leaders at both ends of Pennsylvania Ave. are not too distant nor lofty and their ideas not too complex to get a needling from a local rostrum.

Dear Strom: Stop Strumming

Nothing has come of our campaign to make Strom Thurmond, senator from South Carolina, cease and desist from a practice that is giving us the willies. It is giving other newspapers the willies, too.

Sen. Thurmond, who seems to fancy himself as the embodiment of southern-fried something or other, uses his franking privilege to bombard other people with his highly individualistic points of view.

Let it be clearly understood before the senator's friends (who are determined and highly articule start throwing stench bombs that we are not quarreling with Strom Thurmond's right to think anything he pleases about anything that may come to his mind. We are complaining about his misuse of the franking privilege to bombard us with personal propaganda.

He is not running for anything in this state. He is not about to be running for anything that would entail the indoctrination of U.S. citizens outside his home state of South Carolina. If he wants to propagandize them, all right. If he wants to propagandize non-South Carolinians—all wrong.

At a time when Congress is monkeying with the idea of juggling postal rates to cut down on the postal deficit, a move that could wipe out some of the country's small magazines with no access to important advertising revenue to pay their way, this idea of plastering the country with free mail sticks in the mail chute like a handful of hay.

Except the cost of unloading all that stuff on people who don't want it ain't hay. It says on the envelope it's "Official Business." Bosh!

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Tallest building on earth, the Empire State in New York, is having its face washed. It is 102 stories high and will take half a year to scrub at a cost of $200,000. It must be a boresome job in which cleaners have long periods of wondering if they are holding their own.

Even the urge to "quit when we're ahead" is stymied by the nature of job.

Imagine reactions of workers when he gets home and wife asks "Did you have much to do today?" See anybody we knew?" or "I'm going into town tomorrow; where can I meet you?"

Most provocative question, however, for a fellow who has been washing Empire State building day after day is probably "Want to help me wash the dishes?" We like to figure out an imaginary morning dialogue.

Wife: Have a good sleep?

Worker: Not too good. I kept thinking of a dirt-spot up around the 57th floor that I couldn't seem to remove.

Wife: I heard you tossing around.

Worker: Yes, I had another one of those nightmares. I dreamt I slipped and I seemed to be falling through space all night. I got caught in a cross wind and swept away until I was in orbit doing better than Glenn or Titov.

Wife: How did it end up.

Worker: I circled globe more times than they did. Then I was suddenly riding through New York in a welcome parade.

Wife: That must have been wonderful.

Worker: Wonderful my eye! Imagine me passing hundreds of skyscrapers all needing to be washed! ! !

TWO BABY LIONS are now on exhibition in New York zoo, says a news item:

Oh new born lions in a zoo
You look so very, very blue;
But let this in your thoughts abide:
Life is more dangerous OUTSIDE.

Best railroad story of year was relayed by Mayor Wagner to House Committee during hearing on road troubles. It was about commuter who hurried through Grand Central to N.H. Railroad gate and heard loudspeaker say, "The 5:15 is an hour late. This is a pre-recorded announcement."

The Spigot Keeps Running

Union Looters Face Trials

By Victor Riesel

This land is being sifted for hidden loot by the most massive network of grand juries under a centrally directed master plan in the history of the Justice Department.

Victor Riesel

In crisscrossing this country I've just finished counting at least 50 such federal probes of sticky fingered officials who have been besmirching their own movement by dipping into union tills or have taken such employers' "gifts" as autos, yacht fuel and fodder, pieces of corporations in the mining and construction fields, and even restaurant credit cards.

By my count there have been 89 indictments. There probably are more which have slipped out of this survey. Scores more are now being probed not only in the shadowland unions but in the crime combines.

There are other grand juries, such as the one in New York now quietly hearing the steel companies and some which have been digging into municipal corruption on a line from Indiana to Georgia.

What also is unique is Attorney General Robert Kennedy's dispatch of special Department of Justice Washington headquarters lawyers to aid, supervise and report back on the progress of the regional grand juries.

THERE HAVE been large numbers of grand juries sitting in the past, but never before have they operated on a central theme under such central direction.

Just as other recent grand juries have ranged from probes of milk bottles to steel bars, there has been no limiting the investigations of the labor field.

Searchings of the latter have stretched from New York to the Southern District of Florida, Virginia, Louisiana, Maryland, Illinois, Sioux Falls, South Dakota, Texas, Ohio, West Virginia, Alabama, Honolulu and Union City, N.J.

After these labor probes, women as well as men have been indicted. Those awaiting trial: A Sioux Falls carpenters' official, charged with embezzlement of $3,794.97.

There is in Butte, Mont., a bakery workers' man, a security and protective workers union official in Hawaii. There are a musician's official, a bricklayer, an electrician, a painter, a hodcarrier, an operating engineer, a white collar worker, a hotel and restaurant workers man.

There is one from a doll and toy workers local in northern New Jersey. Another involves an Illinois iron workers local. The arrests run right across the board. These are exclusive of the Teamsters, now being probed by at least 29 of the total number of federal juries.

WHAT IS UNIQUE is the detailedness of the investigations. To the new probers, it's the principle not the cash. There have been indictments on charges of misuse of several hundred dollars as well as alleged acceptance of some $17,000 from a transportation employer. A shakedown in other words.

The principle simply is that union cash must not be used for any private purpose — not for lunches, not for vacation trips, not for gasoline for union cars used as personal property. The purpose is to make local unions less appealing for hoods seeking an operational base.

Of all the indictments, the most important is that of Peter (Pete) Weber, all powerful business manager of Joey Fay's old local 825, Operating Engineers, Newark, N.J. This local has long been one of the powers in the 280,000 - member construction union.

THE OFFICERS of this local have long ruled an organization of skilled workers who could shut down several billion dollars worth of construction in the East—and probably as far into the Midwest as Illinois.

If Pete Weber is convicted, that power will be broken. He is the last of the old giants and now one of the first of the McClellan committee "witnesses" to be formally accused by the government.

The charge is conspiring to accept money and gifts from a company doing business with the union. Said gifts, according to the indictment, are five autos, $19,500, free use of a restaurant credit card, free gas and maintenance for his yacht. He is also accused of taking a piece of a company.

Others who sat on the old Senate committee hot seat soon will be hearing from its former chief counsel, now attorney general. Fellow by name of Bob Kennedy.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

Every time I look at houses designed for modern living I wonder anew why we never got the rumpus out of our living room—but it has been going on so long I suppose we'd miss it if we changed things now.

I am offended when actors making their money portraying a particular type of person in a continuing series step out of character to make a few quick bucks. The idea of Dr. Ben Casey doing a song and dance is absurd.

Be Kind to Animals Week is such a thumping good idea it deserves to be followed with a Be Kind to People Week, because some people can't take care of themselves and are terrorized and abused by brutalitarians too.

One of the new worries in the newspaper business is national newspapers that may evolve out of several semi-experimental projects now in the works. It seems to me the only thing to worry about is the possibility publishers may try to beat them at their game instead of defying them to beat them at the hometown game —local news coverage.

Don't look now and it's too soon to worry but the way things are going the federal government will wind up owning so much land the states and localities will be tax-starved and will have to get down on their knees to Washington for everything, which is what the Founding Fathers wanted to avoid.

Among the crazy things we do, is there anything crazier than waiting to see how many people will be slaughtered at dangerous intersections before admitting that the petitioners for a traffic light may have a talking point? No corpses, no light.

Rome is now the motion picture capital of the world, with Hollywood not even running in the money, but the Eternal City has its problems too, such as snubbing Sophia Loren because of the way her husband obtained his divorce so he could marry her.

My confidence in the long-range ability of the people to be right most of the time at the polls always is undermined by some of the results of primary elections, which I consider to be a monstrosity in the first place and a serious threat to the two-party system of government.

I suppose there actually are people who can read about events in the Congo, Algeria and Angola and still wonder why black men in Africa hate white men.

There is the usual amount of worrying this spring about boying and giriing among college kids, and it is interesting to note that conditions are still getting worse, according to the adults who have been passing this sane judgment against the young for the last 10,000 years.

After editorialists jumped on Gherman Titov for the cracks he made against religious faith I wondered what these self-appointed protectors of the faith expected a Russian astronaut to say in answer to questions that never should have been asked in the first place.

Criticism Needed

By David Lawrence

Public Stand On Government Policies Urged

Who are the real friends of President Kennedy? Are they the people who resent criticism of his policies and want it suppressed, or are they the critics who point out errors while there is still time for the President to correct them before he faces an election in which the voters render their verdict?

David Lawrence

Letters from a small minority of readers sometimes indicate a closed mind — an unwillingness to examine criticism they dislike and a tendency to consider it as to the official who is criticized.

It so happens that this correspondent, for example, has always regarded John F. Kennedy as a man of engaging personality but the liking that a newspaper writer has for a president should have nothing to do with the serious business of pointing out errors in public policy.

The responsibility of a writer is very much the same as the responsibility of a person who holds office. The people are not interested in one's personal preferences but in the truth about governmental actions and policies.

Public officials pay far more heed to criticism that comes from conscientious critics than they do to the plaudits that come from sychophantic friends and worshipping supporters. The other day, an editorial writer of "The Wall Street Journal wrote:

"The idea seems to be if you 'like' the man who is president you should support his policies, and that if you disagree with his policies then it must be that you 'dislike' him. This is not an uncommon attitude. It is shared, in fact, by a good many politicians themselves, who can't avoid the human reaction that any criticism of their ideas is somehow a personal attack. . . .

"If our personal views on Mr. Kennedy are of the slightest interest to anybody, we find him personally very likable and have considerable respect for him. But that is no reason for us to applaud his actions in the steel-price affair, in which we think he was badly mistaken — any more than a different view of Mr. Kennedy personally would have been cause for not applauding his decision to resume nuclear tests, in which we think he did the only wise thing for the country. Policy and not personality is the measure."

DEMOCRACY can function best when the electorate is adequately informed. These are days when highly effective use is made of television, radio and the press to present the administration's side on public questions. But what of the "other side"?

Thus, for instance, at Wednesday's press conference on television and radio, the reporters didn't take up the following statement by the President concerning the withholding tax now being proposed on interest and dividends. He said the charges being made against the bill were "not true." He then added:

"The only ones affected will be those individuals who are not now paying the taxes they owe on this income, either through neglect or for some other reason."

Mr. Kennedy evidently hasn't himself read the statement appearing in the newspapers the other day quoting the commissioner of internal revenue as saying it is estimated that more than $200 million will be "over withheld," and that these taxpayers would have to apply for quarterly refunds.

The President said not a word about the loss of interest to the taxpayer on the amounts the government takes away from him this way for at least a quarter of a year. Nor did Mr. Kennedy mention the plight of the taxpayer who wouldn't be permitted to file a claim for exemption in advance, as he would owe a certain part of the amount withheld but not all of it. He would be compelled to wait for the return of his money.

HOW, THEREFORE, can the voters get the whole story on controversial issues? Criticism was never more important to the administration itself and to the country than it is today. Voters are, in the last analysis, fair-minded. They want to know the real impact of national and international policies on their own lives and on the future of their children.

It may be popular for a president to cry out against a rise in prices, but governmental interference can bring on a recession if it causes the economic system to become stagnant and the profit system to disintegrate.

Recollection of the breakdown in 1929, which was due to a failure of the national economy to adjust to the consequences of World War I, may have become dimmed in the minds of many people who think the law of supply and demand can be brushed aside and the government can solve everything. But memories of the 1930s tell us that, despite an excessive amount of governmental intervention and the use of public appropriations of the make work variety, unemployment figures didn't materially diminish till the outbreak of World War II.

Criticism, especially on economic issues, was never more important than it is today, as week after week the stock market reflects a growing fear of and lack of confidence in the administration's attitude toward business. More criticism rather than less is needed to restore that confidence.

Letters To The Editor

Removal of the four Meter Maids in our economy drive in East Liverpool would be false economy. Using our police for checking meters never has been satisfactory.

Before we had Meter Maids our meters would go for days without being checked, and we would call the City Hall and they would tell us they didn't have enough men or some of the men were on vacation or had days off.

I remember very well that we would have cars pull up in front of our store at 8 a. m. and never leave till 5 p. m., and without putting any money in the meters. It got so bad with all-day parkers a Committee of Merchants went to our City Council and asked for Meter Maids. And I will say that the conditions improved very much after we had the Meter Maids.

I know some people don't like Meter Maids because they put tickets on cars for overtime parking, but there wouldn't be any parking space if we didn't have Meter Maids keeping watch on the meters.

Removing our Meter Maids would be false economy and a step backwards in trying to improve our city and make better parking conditions.

I have a lot of respect for our city policemen, and they are good men. But it has never been satisfactory to have policemen checking meters because they are taken off of checking meters for other police duties and that leaves the meter without anyone to look after them.

Our City Council is trying to do a good job for our city. They are like all other businessmen, trying to cut expenses and keep things moving. Our Meter Maids are paying their own way. If you will check the amount of money that we took in before we had Meter Maids and check the amount of money taken in now you will see that they are doing a good job and still keeping parking open.

I have been working on 5th Street for 34 years and in that time I have been on many Merchant Parking Committees. I think that removing the Meter Maids would be false economy and a step backwards.

He is for stablizied prices but . . .
He is for stabilized wages but . . .
He is for stabilized everything but . . .

THAT ISN'T the way it works when you are the No. 1 citizen in the White House. You cannot have your cake and eat it too.

When you are the chief executive policy maker, you make policy and stick with it or you are asking to be run ragged by every Tom, Dick and Harry who would like to interpret your policy to suit himself.

And also every Roger, Walter and Arthur, to name a few more of the numerous parties involved in this matter of how much inflation the economy can stand to avert the deflation that nobody wants.

This Could Clear The Air

Next week, amid nervous coughing and rustling of paper, a 15-member court of international judges will hear the evidence on a case that could make or break the United States.

The International Court of Justice at The Hague will be preparing to rule on the question: Do expenditures to support the U.N. police forces in the Congo and the Gaza Strip constitute "expenses of the organization"?

Article 17 of the U.S. Charter provides that "expenses" shall be borne by the members "as apportioned by the General Assembly." Article 19 says members in arrears shall have no vote in the General Assembly, if the amount due equals or exceeds the amount of the contributions due for the preceding two full years.

THE QUARREL is over special operations of the United Nations. All members agree that routine expenses must be borne equitably. The Soviet Union holds the position that assessments for peacekeeping operations like the Congo action should be paid by the nations "primarily responsible for the state of affairs necessitating them." France also takes this position, along with South Africa, Spain and Portugal.

The United States argues that payment of assessments for military operations approved by a majority of U.N. voters is mandatory. This is the issue that goes before the International Court by a 52-11 vote of the General Assembly.

Its decision will be advisory. It cannot be enforced. But in view of the fact the court's ruling will be official and that only 16 of the 105 U.N. members are paid up at the present time, the United States has been meeting more than half the expenses since 1946, this would be the ideal time for a showdown.

THE UNITED STATES would be well within its rights if it served notice that beginning the first fiscal year after the International Court's advisory decision, no matter which way it happened to fall, it would pay no more than one third of the total expenses of the United Nations.

In what other way can the United States ever hope to convince the other 103 members that it has no desire whatever to save the United Nations unless they want it saved; that it is a truly international organization or it is nothing at all?

Speaking One's Mind

Sincere and intelligent appraisals of governmental policy from City Hall to Columbus and Washington always have been a chief responsibility of good citizenship, not just at election time, but the year around.

Problems at the various levels of administration continue to require close public attention. And, as columnist David Lawrence has pointed out, criticism should be voiced openly to provide a recognizable public attitude.

There has been no reticence in the East Liverpool area on the part of speakers to attack certain federal policies. The president of the county medical society has hit at the proposed medical care for the aged bill and the president of the Hanna Coal Co. has urged a stand against what he believes are trends toward inhibition of free enterprise and initiative.

These outspoken declarations, regardless of their political or economic color, are welcomed by observers of everyday life who have been thinking that local public criticism of the federal government has become shy or indifferent.

It is reassuring to learn that such criticism is not the sole activity of newspaper editors and columnists and that those leaders at both ends of Pennsylvania Ave. are not too distant nor lofty and their ideas not too complex to get a needling from a local rostrum.

Dear Strom: Stop Strumming

Nothing has come of our campaign to make Strom Thurmond, senator from South Carolina, cease and desist from a practice that is giving us the willies. It is giving other newspapers the willies, too.

Sen. Thurmond, who seems to fancy himself as the embodiment of southern-fried something or other, uses his franking privilege to bombard other people with his highly individualistic points of view.

Let it be clearly understood before the senator's friends (who are determined and highly articule start throwing stench bombs that we are not quarreling with Strom Thurmond's right to think anything he pleases about anything that may come to his mind. We are complaining about his misuse of the franking privilege to bombard us with personal propaganda.

He is not running for anything in this state. He is not about to be running for anything that would entail the indoctrination of U.S. citizens outside his home state of South Carolina. If he wants to propagandize them, all right. If he wants to propagandize non-South Carolinians—all wrong.

At a time when Congress is monkeying with the idea of juggling postal rates to cut down on the postal deficit, a move that could wipe out some of the country's small magazines with no access to important advertising revenue to pay their way, this idea of plastering the country with free mail sticks in the mail chute like a handful of hay.

Except the cost of unloading all that stuff on people who don't want it ain't hay. It says on the envelope it's "Official Business." Bosh!

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Tallest building on earth, the Empire State in New York, is having its face washed. It is 102 stories high and will take half a year to scrub at a cost of $200,000. It must be a boresome job in which cleaners have long periods of wondering if they are holding their own.

Even the urge to "quit when we're ahead" is stymied by the nature of job.

Imagine reactions of workers when he gets home and wife asks "Did you have much to do today?" See anybody we knew?" or "I'm going into town tomorrow; where can I meet you?"

Most provocative question, however, for a fellow who has been washing Empire State building day after day is probably "Want to help me wash the dishes?" We like to figure out an imaginary morning dialogue.

Wife: Have a good sleep?

Worker: Not too good. I kept thinking of a dirt-spot up around the 57th floor that I couldn't seem to remove.

Wife: I heard you tossing around.

Worker: Yes, I had another one of those nightmares. I dreamt I slipped and I seemed to be falling through space all night. I got caught in a cross wind and swept away until I was in orbit doing better than Glenn or Titov.

Wife: How did it end up.

Worker: I circled globe more times than they did. Then I was suddenly riding through New York in a welcome parade.

Wife: That must have been wonderful.

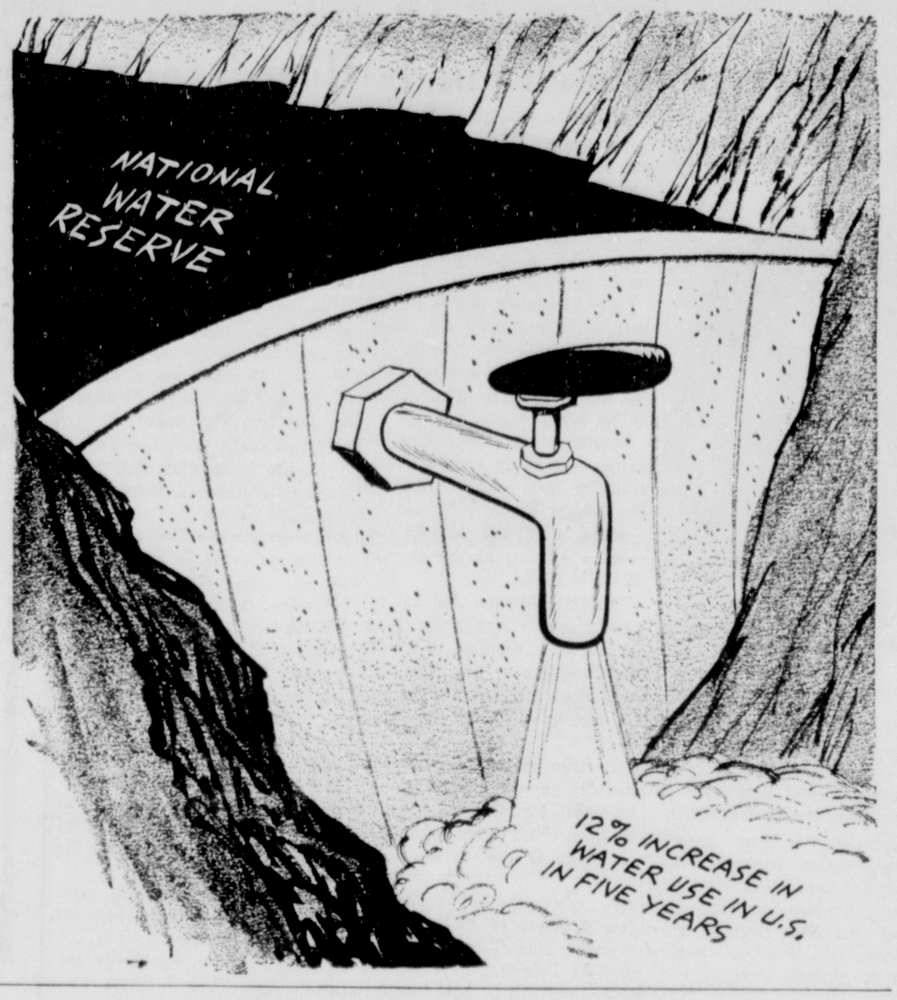

Worker: Wonderful my eye! Imagine me passing hundreds of skyscrapers all needing to be washed! ! !

TWO BABY LIONS are now on exhibition in New York zoo, says a news item:

Oh new born lions in a zoo
You look so very, very blue;
But let this in your thoughts abide:
Life is more dangerous OUTSIDE.

Best railroad story of year was relayed by Mayor Wagner to House Committee during hearing on road troubles. It was about commuter who hurried through Grand Central to N.H. Railroad gate and heard loudspeaker say, "The 5:15 is an hour late. This is a pre-recorded announcement."

The Spigot Keeps Running

Union Looters Face Trials

By Victor Riesel

This land is being sifted for hidden loot by the most massive network of grand juries under a centrally directed master plan in the history of the Justice Department.

Victor Riesel

In crisscrossing this country I've just finished counting at least 50 such federal probes of sticky fingered officials who have been besmirching their own movement by dipping into union tills or have taken such employers' "gifts" as autos, yacht fuel and fodder, pieces of corporations in the mining and constructions fields, and even restaurant credit cards.

By my count there have been 89 indictments. There probably are more which have slipped out of this survey. Scores more are now being probed not only in the shadowland unions but in the crime combines.

There are other grand juries, such as the one in New York now quietly hearing the steel companies and some which have been digging into municipal corruption on a line from Indiana to Georgia.

What also is unique is Attorney General Robert Kennedy's dispatch of special Department of Justice Washington headquarters lawyers to aid, supervise and report back on the progress of the regional grand juries.

THERE HAVE been large numbers of grand juries sitting in the past, but never before have they operated on a central theme under such central direction.

Just as other recent grand juries have ranged from probes of milk bottles to steel bars, there has been no limiting the investigations of the labor field.

Searchings of the latter have stretched from New York to the Southern District of Florida, Virginia, Louisiana, Maryland, Illinois, Sioux Falls, South Dakota, Texas, Ohio, West Virginia, Alabama, Honolulu and Union City, N.J.

After these labor probes, women as well as men have been indicted. Those awaiting trial: A Sioux Falls carpenters' official, charged with embezzlement of $3,794.97.

There is in Butte, Mont., a bakery workers' man, a security and protective workers union official in Hawaii. There are a musician's official, a bricklayer, an electrician, a painter, a hodcarrier, an operating engineer, a white collar worker, a hotel and restaurant workers man.

There is one from a doll and toy workers local in northern New Jersey. Another involves an Illinois iron workers local. The arrests run right across the board. These are exclusive of the Teamsters, now being probed by at least 29 of the total number of federal juries.

WHAT IS UNIQUE is the detailedness of the investigations. To the new probers, it's the principle not the cash. There have been indictments on charges of misuse of several hundred dollars as well as alleged acceptance of some $17,000 from a transportation employer. A shakedown in other words.

The principle simply is that union cash must not be used for any private purpose — not for lunches, not for vacation trips, not for gasoline for union cars used as personal property. The purpose is to make local unions less appealing for hoods seeking an operational base.

Of all the indictments, the most important is that of Peter (Pete) Weber, all powerful business manager of Joey Fay's old local 825, Operating Engineers, Newark, N.J. This local has long been one of the powers in the 280,000 - member construction union.

THE OFFICERS of this local have long ruled an organization of skilled workers who could shut down several billion dollars worth of construction in the East—and probably as far into the Midwest as Illinois.

If Pete Weber is convicted, that power will be broken. He is the last of the old giants and now one of the first of the McClellan committee "witnesses" to be formally accused by the government.

The charge is conspiring to accept money and gifts from a company doing business with the union. Said gifts, according to the indictment, are five autos, $19,500, free use of a restaurant credit card, free gas and maintenance for his yacht. He is also accused of taking a piece of a company.

Others who sat on the old Senate committee hot seat soon will be hearing from its former chief counsel, now attorney general. Fellow by name of Bob Kennedy.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

Every time I look at houses designed for modern living I wonder anew why we never got the rumpus out of our living room—but it has been going on so long I suppose we'd miss it if we changed things now.

I am offended when actors making their money portraying a particular type of person in a continuing series step out of character to make a few quick bucks. The idea of Dr. Ben Casey doing a song and dance is absurd.

Be Kind to Animals Week is such a thumping good idea it deserves to be followed with a Be Kind to People Week, because some people can't take care of themselves and are terrorized and abused by brutalitarians too.

One of the new worries in the newspaper business is national newspapers that may evolve out of several semi-experimental projects now in the works. It seems to me the only thing to worry about is the possibility publishers may try to beat them at their game instead of defying them to beat them at the hometown game —local news coverage.

Don't look now and it's too soon to worry but the way things are going the federal government will wind up owning so much land the states and localities will be tax-starved and will have to get down on their knees to Washington for everything, which is what the Founding Fathers wanted to avoid.

Among the crazy things we do, is there anything crazier than waiting to see how many people will be slaughtered at dangerous intersections before admitting that the petitioners for a traffic light may have a talking point? No corpses, no light.

Rome is now the motion picture capital of the world, with Hollywood not even running in the money, but the Eternal City has its problems too, such as snubbing Sophia Loren because of the way her husband obtained his divorce so he could marry her.

My confidence in the long-range ability of the people to be right most of the time at the polls always is undermined by some of the results of primary elections, which I consider to be a monstrosity in the first place and a serious threat to the two-party system of government.

I suppose there actually are people who can read about events in the Congo, Algeria and Angola and still wonder why black men in Africa hate white men.

There is the usual amount of worrying this spring about boying and giring among college kids, and it is interesting to note that conditions are still getting worse, according to the adults who have been passing this sane judgment against the young for the last 10,000 years.

After editorialists jumped on Gherman Titov for the cracks he made against religious faith I wondered what these self-appointed protectors of the faith expected a Russian astronaut to say in answer to questions that never should have been asked in the first place.

Criticism Needed

By David Lawrence

Public Stand On Government Policies Urged

Who are the real friends of President Kennedy? Are they the people who resent criticism of his policies and want it suppressed, or are they the critics who point out errors while there is still time for the President to correct them before he faces an election in which the voters render their verdict?

David Lawrence

Letters from a small minority of readers sometimes indicate a closed mind — an unwillingness to examine criticism they dislike and a tendency to consider it as to the official who is criticized.

It so happens that this correspondent, for example, has always regarded John F. Kennedy as a man of engaging personality but the liking that a newspaper writer has for a president should have nothing to do with the serious business of pointing out errors in public policy.

The responsibility of a writer is very much the same as the responsibility of a person who holds office. The people are not interested in one's personal preferences but in the truth about governmental actions and policies.

Public officials pay far more heed to criticism that comes from conscientious critics than they do to the plaudits that come from sychophantic friends and worshipping supporters. The other day, an editorial writer of "The Wall Street Journal wrote:

"The idea seems to be if you 'like' the man who is president you should support his policies, and that if you disagree with his policies then it must be that you 'dislike' him. This is not an uncommon attitude. It is shared, in fact, by a good many politicians themselves, who can't avoid the human reaction that any criticism of their ideas is somehow a personal attack. . . .

"If our personal views on Mr. Kennedy are of the slightest interest to anybody, we find him personally very likable and have considerable respect for him. But that is no reason for us to applaud his actions in the steel-price affair, in which we think he was badly mistaken — any more than a different view of Mr. Kennedy personally would have been cause for not applauding his decision to resume nuclear tests, in which we think he did the only wise thing for the country. Policy and not personality is the measure."

DEMOCRACY can function best when the electorate is adequately informed. These are days when highly effective use is made of television, radio and the press to present the administration's side on public questions. But what of the "other side"?

Thus, for instance, at Wednesday's press conference on television and radio, the reporters didn't take up the following statement by the President concerning the withholding tax now being proposed on interest and dividends. He said the charges being made against the bill were "not true." He then added:

"The only ones affected will be those individuals who are not now paying the taxes they owe on this income, either through neglect or for some other reason."

Mr. Kennedy evidently hasn't himself read the statement appearing in the newspapers the other day quoting the commissioner of internal revenue as saying it is estimated that more than $200 million will be "over withheld," and that these taxpayers would have to apply for quarterly refunds.

The President said not a word about the loss of interest to the taxpayer on the amounts the government takes away from him this way for at least a quarter of a year. Nor did Mr. Kennedy mention the plight of the taxpayer who wouldn't be permitted to file a claim for exemption in advance, as he would owe a certain part of the amount withheld but not all of it. He would be conpelled to wait for the return of his money.

HOW, THEREFORE, can the voters get the whole story on controversial issues? Criticism was never more important to the administration itself and to the country than it is today. Voters are, in the last analysis, fair-minded. They want to know the real impact of national and international policies on their own lives and on the future of their children.

It may be popular for a president to cry out against a rise in prices, but governmental interference can bring on a recession if it causes the economic system to become stagnant and the profit system to disintegrate.

Recollection of the breakdown in 1929, which was due to a failure of the national economy to adjust to the consequences of World War I, may have become dimmed in the minds of many people who think the law of supply and demand can be brushed aside and the government can solve everything. But memories of the 1930s tell us that, despite an excessive amount of governmental intervention and the use of public appropriations of the make work variety, unemployment figures didn't materially diminish till the outbreak of World War II.

Criticism, especially on economic issues, was never more important than it is today, as week after week the stock market reflects a growing fear of and lack of confidence in the administration's attitude toward business. More criticism rather than less is needed to restore that confidence.

Letters To The Editor

Removal of the four Meter Maids in our economy drive in East Liverpool would be false economy. Using our police for checking meters never has been satisfactory.

Before we had Meter Maids our meters would go for days without being checked, and we would call the City Hall and they would tell us they didn't have enough men or some of the men were on vacation or had days off.

I remember very well that we would have cars pull up in front of our store at 8 a. m. and never leave till 5 p. m., and without putting any money in the meters. It got so bad with all-day parkers a Committee of Merchants went to our City Council and asked for Meter Maids. And I will say that the conditions improved very much after we had the Meter Maids.

I know some people don't like Meter Maids because they put tickets on cars for overtime parking, but there wouldn't be any parking space if we didn't have Meter Maids keeping watch on the meters.

Removing our Meter Maids would be false economy and a step backwards in trying to improve our city and make better parking conditions.

I have a lot of respect for our city policemen, and they are good men. But it has never been satisfactory to have policemen checking meters because they are taken off of checking meters for other police duties and that leaves the meter without anyone to look after them.

Our City Council is trying to do a good job for our city. They are like all other businessmen, trying to cut expenses and keep things moving. Our Meter Maids are paying their own way. If you will check the amount of money that we took in before we had Meter Maids and check the amount of money taken in now you will see that they are doing a good job and still keeping parking open.

I have been working on 5th Street for 34 years and in that time I have been on many Merchant Parking Committees. I think that removing the Meter Maids would be false economy and a step backwards.

Government 'Security' Trend Hit By Speaker

A warning of the loss of initiative and economic prosperity through government controls and "security" programs was issued by James Reilly, president of the Hanna Coal Co., at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday.

Reilly said the coal industry had been developed throughout American history through free enterprise, and could still "outmine and outsell" any nation on earth as a result of this freedom.

But he said encroachments of government pose a threat to such enterprise and incentive in this nation, and citizens should be on guard against it.

"Liza, in 'Uncle Tom's Cabin,' was fleeing north from just one thing — security, the security of slavery," he declared, saying no nation on earth has been able to maintain slavery by force very long, only by offering adequate living and security.

Reilly said the coal industry has weathered two huge blows — use of oil in ships and on American railroads, cutting away giant markets for coal. But he said automation and research have enabled the industry to continue toward "new hope, with a new look."

He declared small coal producers have progressed in the past 20 years through hard work and initiative.

The speaker declared the nation was founded "on a protest movement, and I pray that sometime in the next few years, a U.S. labor leader will gather enough courage to stand up and tell the government that he will strike, that he can't be told how to work or how to set prices..."

"Big business," he said, "is too vulnerable to do it; there is the threat of bankruptcy."

Reilly cited the danger of "something for nothing," and spoke against deficit spending and economic practices which bring "apparent booms."

He said the nation is heading for a commitment with the common market program in Europe, and said the nations involved have been supported and financed by the United States which now owes them some $12 billion in gold.

"How did these nations do it?" he asked. "By giving up socialism which they had tried unsuccessfully for 20 or 30 years, and putting it in incentive program. It worked for them just as it has worked for us."

"But we can outdo them," he went on, "unless somebody puts a chain on us to hold us back.

The coal industry can put coal into any nation on earth cheaper than that nation can mine it, he asserted — "we can take care of ourselves without the government.

"Look it over real well," he concluded. "Make sure we get the representation in government which will keep the United States what it always has been — a place where the ordinary man has the opportunity to choose what he wants to do, the way he wants to."

Reilly was introduced by Norman Nicely, program chairman. Five members of the Lisbon Kiwanis Club paid an interclub visit. Paul Blair, president, was in charge.

Boudoir Burglar Obtains Purse Underneath Bed

A West End woman told police her pocketbook containing $63 was stolen from the floor underneath the head of her bed while she slept early today.

The burglary was reported by Mrs. Bertha E. Moore, 907 Alton St., who said an intruder entered her home between midnight at 5:34 a. m. The white pocketbook also contained two change purses, a set of house keys and a bank book, she said.

Police said the intruder would have had to enter the front room on the ground floor, go upstairs to a hallway and then walk past another bedroom where Mrs. Jo-Ann Dailey and her 17-month-old son were asleep.

Meanwhile, Ed Stalter, 955 Ohio Ave., told police about noon yesterday a basketball hoop was stolen from the garage at his home.

Reilly said the coal industry has weathered two huge blows — use of oil in ships and on American railroads, cutting away giant markets for coal. But he said automation and research have enabled the industry to continue toward "new hope, with a new look."

He declared small coal producers have progressed in the past 20 years through hard work and initiative.

The speaker declared the nation was founded "on a protest movement, and I pray that sometime in the next few years, a U.S. labor leader will gather enough courage to stand up and tell the government that he will strike, that he can't be told how to work or how to set prices..."

"Big business," he said, "is too vulnerable to do it; there is the threat of bankruptcy."

Reilly cited the danger of "something for nothing," and spoke against deficit spending and economic practices which bring "apparent booms."

He said the nation is heading for a commitment with the common market program in Europe, and said the nations involved have been supported and financed by the United States which now owes them some $12 billion in gold.

"How did these nations do it?" he asked. "By giving up socialism which they had tried unsuccessfully for 20 or 30 years, and putting it in incentive program. It worked for them just as it has worked for us."

"But we can outdo them," he went on, "unless somebody puts a chain on us to hold us back.

The coal industry can put coal into any nation on earth cheaper than that nation can mine it, he asserted — "we can take care of ourselves without the government.

"Look it over real well," he concluded. "Make sure we get the representation in government which will keep the United States what it always has been — a place where the ordinary man has the opportunity to choose what he wants to do, the way he wants to."

Reilly was introduced by Norman Nicely, program chairman. Five members of the Lisbon Kiwanis Club paid an interclub visit. Paul Blair, president, was in charge.

Boudoir Burglar Obtains Purse Underneath Bed

A West End woman told police her pocketbook containing $63 was stolen from the floor underneath the head of her bed while she slept early today.

The burglary was reported by Mrs. Bertha E. Moore, 907 Alton St., who said an intruder entered her home between midnight at 5:34 a. m. The white pocketbook also contained two change purses, a set of house keys and a bank book, she said.

Police said the intruder would have had to enter the front room on the ground floor, go upstairs to a hallway and then walk past another bedroom where Mrs. Jo-Ann Dailey and her 17-month-old son were asleep.

Meanwhile, Ed Stalter, 955 Ohio Ave., told police about noon yesterday a basketball hoop was stolen from the garage at his home.

SPRING AND YOUR SEPTIC TANK

Surprising though it may seem, Spring, with its sunshine and showers, is just about the most critical time of year for owners of septic tanks.

To correctly understand the aforementioned statement it is first necessary to analyze the workings of septic tanks, and the effect of seasonal changes.

Your septic tank is a chamber wherein exists a complex of micro-organisms, each type equipped to handle and dispose of different types of waste material. Working as a team these infinitesimal forms of life breakdown and liquefy the solids, leaving only a liquid which is free to run out for final disposal in your drainfield or drywell. Regularly activated, these living "garbage disposals" will normally keep up with the flow of waste, and your system will function properly. However, surveys show that, during the spring season, more systems "back-up" and overflow than at any other time of year, creating expensive and highly unsanitary conditions.

WHY ? ? ?

The answer to that question is simply "temperature". Bacterial life dislikes temperature changes, and, since your septic tank has no heating system to keep things cozy so that they can go about their work in comfort, they die off in the millions and billions when winter arrives, leaving only a "skeleton crew" of weakend bacteria to handle the heavy loads. Consequently, as winter months pass slowly by, a build-up of undigested grease and solids occurs, clogging the tank and passing through to the disposal fields. Grease congeals and deposits in the pores of the soil almost to the point of being beyond repair. Melting ice, snow, and spring showers add to the problem by entering the system.

HOW SEA CAL ENZYMES HELP

The powerful digestive powers of the enzymes contained in SEA-CAL rapidly liquefy the hard grease drainfields, changing such grease and other solids into available food for the bacteria SEA-CAL also contains 80,000,000 anerobic bacteria per gram (28 grams in each ounce), and with each bacteria reproducing itself many times a day, the micro-organism population is rapidly built up to adequate numbers, with the ultimate return of full operating efficiency.

SPRING AND YOUR SEPTIC TANK

Surprising though it may seem, Spring, with its sunshine and showers, is just about the most critical time of year for owners of septic tanks.

To correctly understand the aforementioned statement it is first necessary to analyze the workings of septic tanks, and the effect of seasonal changes.

Your septic tank is a chamber wherein exists a complex of micro-organisms, each type equipped to handle and dispose of different types of waste material. Working as a team these infinitesimal forms of life breakdown and liquefy the solids, leaving only a liquid which is free to run out for final disposal in your drainfield or drywell. Regularly activated, these living "garbage disposals" will normally keep up with the flow of waste, and your system will function properly. However, surveys show that, during the spring season, more systems "back-up" and overflow than at any other time of year, creating expensive and highly unsanitary conditions.

WHY ? ? ?

The answer to that question is simply "temperature". Bacterial life dislikes temperature changes, and, since your septic tank has no heating system to keep things cozy so that they can go about their work in comfort, they die off in the millions and billions when winter arrives, leaving only a "skeleton crew" of weakend bacteria to handle the heavy loads. Consequently, as winter months pass slowly by, a build-up of undigested grease and solids occurs, clogging the tank and passing through to the disposal fields. Grease congeals and deposits in the pores of the soil almost to the point of being beyond repair. Melting ice, snow, and spring showers add to the problem by entering the system.

HOW SEA CAL ENZYMES HELP

The powerful digestive powers of the enzymes contained in SEA-CAL rapidly liquefy the hard grease drainfields, changing such grease and other solids into available food for the bacteria SEA-CAL also contains 80,000,000 anerobic bacteria per gram (28 grams in each ounce), and with each bacteria reproducing itself many times a day, the micro-organism population is rapidly built up to adequate numbers, with the ultimate return of full operating efficiency.

More Donations For Red Cross Asked In Appeal

The North Hancock County Red Cross Chapter is appealing for residents of the Chester, Newell and New Cumberland areas to make additional contributions this week in order to meet its fund quota of 1962.

The Rev. C. Donald Vogel, chapter chairman, said the 1962 campaign fell short of its goal by about $1,000.

In order to have funds available for emergencies and for training persons to be ready for emergencies, the chapter is asking residents to make contributions in two ways, he said.

Contributions may be mailed to the Red Cross chapter, at the Aaron Building in Newell, or deposited in special containers at four drugstores in the north end of the county, Walton's in New Cumberland, Carnahan's in Newell, and Herche's and Citizens' in Chester.

Mrs. Ruth Sprouse, executive secretary, explained recently that "many people are not aware of one of the emergencies which the Red Cross meets often."

"When servicemen's allotments to their families are delayed or interrupted, the Red Cross is the only agency in the area prepared to help with this emergency," she said.

More Donations For Red Cross Asked In Appeal

The North Hancock County Red Cross Chapter is appealing for residents of the Chester, Newell and New Cumberland areas to make additional contributions this week in order to meet its fund quota of 1962.

The Rev. C. Donald Vogel, chapter chairman, said the 1962 campaign fell short of its goal by about $1,000.

In order to have funds available for emergencies and for training persons to be ready for emergencies, the chapter is asking residents to make contributions in two ways, he said.

Contributions may be mailed to the Red Cross chapter, at the Aaron Building in Newell, or deposited in special containers at four drugstores in the north end of the county, Walton's in New Cumberland, Carnahan's in Newell, and Herche's and Citizens' in Chester.

Mrs. Ruth Sprouse, executive secretary, explained recently that "many people are not aware of one of the emergencies which the Red Cross meets often."

"When servicemen's allotments to their families are delayed or interrupted, the Red Cross is the only agency in the area prepared to help with this emergency," she said.

Ohio Bar Plans Move To Change Courts' System

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio State Bar Association has launched a move to bring major changes to the state's court system.

The plan was disclosed here Thursday by the association's Council of Delegates, meeting as part of the state bar's annual convention.

The plan—which probably will go on the ballot in November 1963 as a proposed constitutional amendment — would streamline court operations and give greater power to the Ohio Supreme Court.

It is the result of nearly four years of work by the Bar Committee on Judicial Organization, headed by Earl F. Morris of Columbus, a former Bar Association president.

"The program would utilize existing manpower more efficiently," Morris said in an interview. "It would unify all courts into one for better administrative handling."

Major objectives include creating a single court in each county and placing control of those courts under direct supervision of the Ohio Supreme Court.

Ohio Bar Plans Move To Change Courts' System

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio State Bar Association has launched a move to bring major changes to the state's court system.

The plan was disclosed here Thursday by the association's Council of Delegates, meeting as part of the state bar's annual convention.

The plan—which probably will go on the ballot in November 1963 as a proposed constitutional amendment — would streamline court operations and give greater power to the Ohio Supreme Court.

It is the result of nearly four years of work by the Bar Committee on Judicial Organization, headed by Earl F. Morris of Columbus, a former Bar Association president.

"The program would utilize existing manpower more efficiently," Morris said in an interview. "It would unify all courts into one for better administrative handling."

Major objectives include creating a single court in each county and placing control of those courts under direct supervision of the Ohio Supreme Court.

Here's the registration breakdown by buildings:

Garfield, 41; Glenmoor, 45; Horace Mann, 53; Klondyke, 14; LaCroft, 29; Lincoln, 48; McKinley, 38; Neville, 9; Pleasant Heights, 26; Taft, 44, and Westgate, 47.

interstate shipments of less than a car load, effective June 1. The letter asked that a protest be filed next Tuesday to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Two representatives of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. explained that the company is losing money on less than a car load ir. interstate shipments. The company asks that such shipments be at least 10,000 pounds.

They said the Midland station is not being closed nor will any personnel be laid off. They said the restriction would not affect intrastate shipments within the state. It was pointed out that no Midland industries or stores have protested.

Council approved a motion of D'Alesio's that the clerks union in Pittsburgh be contacted and, if there is no loss of station or personnel, then Council would not protest.

Fire Chief Vincent D'Itri called the railroad representatives' attention to debris along the company's tracks. Both said they knew about the condition prior to Council's meeting and had ordered a cleanup and will consult the company about the matter.

Mrs. O'Hara announced that John McGovern of Beaver, health inspector for the state, has called a meeting of Council's health committee to inspect to the borough's rubbish dump in Cow Hollow in Ohioville Borough.

The meeting will be May 22 at 11 a. m. Councilman Joseph Hibbard, vice president, who presided last night, and R. E. Steebner, borough engineer will also attend.

Hibbard commented on the recent installation of new mercury-type lights along Midland Ave. Steebner reported he has informed the Duquesne Light Co. of a Council committee's decision against replacing two steel poles with wooden ones for transformers along the main street. Steebner said the company will use some other plan to set the poles with transformers back from the street.

Steebner reported that he has sent letters notifying property owners along Midland Ave. to repair and install sidewalks where needed. He said all were informed, except those between 3rd and 4th Sts., where catch basins will be installed. He also said that tree stumps are now being removed.

Councilman Presutti reported that the police department received a new Ford cruiser Saturday will be lettered soon. Chief Ed Stefl said a gun rack still has to be installed.

Verzella's Service Station of Midland Ave. and 5th St. requested in a letter to Council that a parking meter be removed as parked cars obstruct the view of patrons leaving an exit. The request was given to the traffic committee for action.

The Hot Stove League was authorized to operate the concession stand at the Veterans Memorial Swimming Pool again this summer.

There was some discussion on the request since an old barn near the pool is being razed and the stand may be moved farther from the pool.

Councilman Germusa and Steebner said about a week is needed yet for tearing down the barn.

The Beaver County Boroughs' Association informed Council that its next meeting will be Wednesday at 8 p. m. at the Courthouse at Beaver.

Negley Man Injured As Car Leaves Road

A 48-year-old Negley man was injured this morning when his car went over an embankment on Route 170 north of Calcutta while on his way to work in Chester.

Samuel Scragg, employe of the Goddard Bakers, Inc., was treated at City Hospital at 7 a.m. for abrasions of the leg and head and possible back and leg injuries.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said his car left the highway about a quarter of a mile north of Calcutta, but officers did not have details of the accident. Scragg told authorities a tire blew out.

2 Beechwood Streets Get Calcium Chloride

A calcium chloride solution designed to hold down summer dust was applied this morning on Haywood St. and part of Center St., Beechwood.

The spray was applied by the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co., contractor, under its agreement with the city. The crew also finished applying the material to Maine Blvd., most of which was treated Wednesday.

Street Supt. W. M. Laughlin said the company probably will not resume the chemical treatments until early next week. The project was initiated early this week as an alternative to oiling.

Robbery

dan in which the pair had planned to make their escape was demolished when it rolled over the embankment and the television receiver was crushed, deputies said.

Thurman Allgood, who resides near the store, heard the crash and went to the scene to help Turick from the car, deputies said.

Constable Nicholson arrived to find Turick on a village street. Deputies said Turick demanded that the constable investigate the auto wreck, in an apparent attempt to lure the officer away from the store where Wasiloff was waiting inside.

The officer found a box containing about 45 cartons of cigarettes, a large box of meat, and a quarter of beef which the pair had intended to take from the store, deputies said.

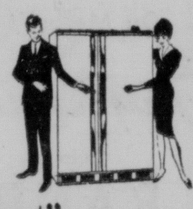

The sheriff's office said the cash registers in the store had been ransacked. Deputies recovered $21.82 in currency and coins on the pair when they were booked in Steubenville this morning.

Deputies said entry to the store was gained by breaking glass in the front door with a wheel wrench. A screwdriver was used to pry open other doors in the store, deputies said.

Turick and Wasiloff were lodged overnight in the Village Jail and taken to Steubenville this morning where they are being held on an open charge in connection with the burglary.

interstate shipments of less than a car load, effective June 1. The letter asked that a protest be filed next Tuesday to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Two representatives of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. explained that the company is losing money on less than a car load ir. interstate shipments. The company asks that such shipments be at least 10,000 pounds.

They said the Midland station is not being closed nor will any personnel be laid off. They said the restriction would not affect intrastate shipments within the state. It was pointed out that no Midland industries or stores have protested.

Council approved a motion of D'Alesio's that the clerks union in Pittsburgh be contacted and, if there is no loss of station or personnel, then Council would not protest.

Fire Chief Vincent D'Itri called the railroad representatives' attention to debris along the company's tracks. Both said they knew about the condition prior to Council's meeting and had ordered a cleanup and will consult the company about the matter.

Mrs. O'Hara announced that John McGovern of Beaver, health inspector for the state, has called a meeting of Council's health committee to inspect to the borough's rubbish dump in Cow Hollow in Ohioville Borough.

The meeting will be May 22 at 11 a. m. Councilman Joseph Hibbard, vice president, who presided last night, and R. E. Steebner, borough engineer will also attend.

Hibbard commented on the recent installation of new mercury-type lights along Midland Ave. Steebner reported he has informed the Duquesne Light Co. of a Council committee's decision against replacing two steel poles with wooden ones for transformers along the main street. Steebner said the company will use some other plan to set the poles with transformers back from the street.

Steebner reported that he has sent letters notifying property owners along Midland Ave. to repair and install sidewalks where needed. He said all were informed, except those between 3rd and 4th Sts., where catch basins will be installed. He also said that tree stumps are now being removed.

Councilman Presutti reported that the police department received a new Ford cruiser Saturday will be lettered soon. Chief Ed Stefl said a gun rack still has to be installed.

Verzella's Service Station of Midland Ave. and 5th St. requested in a letter to Council that a parking meter be removed as parked cars obstruct the view of patrons leaving an exit. The request was given to the traffic committee for action.

The Hot Stove League was authorized to operate the concession stand at the Veterans Memorial Swimming Pool again this summer.

There was some discussion on the request since an old barn near the pool is being razed and the stand may be moved farther from the pool.

Councilman Germusa and Steebner said about a week is needed yet for tearing down the barn.

The Beaver County Boroughs' Association informed Council that its next meeting will be Wednesday at 8 p. m. at the Courthouse at Beaver.

Negley Man Injured As Car Leaves Road

A 48-year-old Negley man was injured this morning when his car went over an embankment on Route 170 north of Calcutta while on his way to work in Chester.

Samuel Scragg, employe of the Goddard Bakers, Inc., was treated at City Hospital at 7 a.m. for abrasions of the leg and head and possible back and leg injuries.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said his car left the highway about a quarter of a mile north of Calcutta, but officers did not have details of the accident. Scragg told authorities a tire blew out.

2 Beechwood Streets Get Calcium Chloride

A calcium chloride solution designed to hold down summer dust was applied this morning on Haywood St. and part of Center St., Beechwood.

The spray was applied by the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co., contractor, under its agreement with the city. The crew also finished applying the material to Maine Blvd., most of which was treated Wednesday.

Street Supt. W. M. Laughlin said the company probably will not resume the chemical treatments until early next week. The project was initiated early this week as an alternative to oiling.

dan in which the pair had planned to make their escape was demolished when it rolled over the embankment and the television receiver was crushed, deputies said.

Thurman Allgood, who resides near the store, heard the crash and went to the scene to help Turick from the car, deputies said.

Constable Nicholson arrived to find Turick on a village street. Deputies said Turick demanded that the constable investigate the auto wreck, in an apparent attempt to lure the officer away from the store where Wasiloff was waiting inside.

The officer found a box containing about 45 cartons of cigarettes, a large box of meat, and a quarter of beef which the pair had intended to take from the store, deputies said.

The sheriff's office said the cash registers in the store had been ransacked. Deputies recovered $21.82 in currency and coins on the pair when they were booked in Steubenville this morning.

Deputies said entry to the store was gained by breaking glass in the front door with a wheel wrench. A screwdriver was used to pry open other doors in the store, deputies said.

Turick and Wasiloff were lodged overnight in the Village Jail and taken to Steubenville this morning where they are being held on an open charge in connection with the burglary.

Bills Confirm City's Closing Of Crossings

Action which the city took about six years ago to close three little-used crossings was confirmed Thursday night in legislation enacted by Council in hopes it will help persuade the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. to go ahead with plans for installation of automatic gates and blinkers at the Walnut St. and Broadway crossings.

Three resolutions were approved unanimously confirming the closing of so-called Campbell's Crossing at Martins Alley on the River Rd., another on West Alley at 1st St. and a third at E. 2nd St.—adjoining the Broadway crossing.

Pennsy officials from Pittsburgh asked Council to enact the legislation in order that the crossings could be written off the railroad's books as officially closed. The request was made when the railroad officials came here about two months ago for the latest in a series of conferences on the city's request for improved protection at crossings — particularly the busy spots at Walnut St. and Broadway.

The railroad officials acknowledged that the three crossings have been closed for several years, following an agreement made between the city and the railroad. But no legislation ever was passed to make the move official, they explained.

The railroad officials indicated the action would make the company more amenable to following through on previously - announced plans for installation of the automatic gates and blinkers at the Walnut St. and Broadway crossings.

The conferences with the railroad date back more than a year. The 1960-61 Council held several conferences with the railroad officials without arriving at agreement. In the last meeting with the former Council, the Pennsy spokesmen asked the city to share the cost of the new installation. However, that suggestion was withdrawn in the most recent meeting.

Council now is expected to resume negotiations with the railroad on the new protection system.

In other business, Council approved an ordinance authorizing City Engineer George S. Bloomgren to hire three temporary assistants to perform field work in connection with preparation of plans for a Gardendale trunk line sewer and other special projects.

It authorizes the engineer to hire a chief assistant at $2.50 hourly, a junior engineer at $2.25 and a field assistant at $2. Bloomgren requested the legislation in a conference with Council Monday night.

He said his office was authorized $4,000 for hiring of assistants in 1962. The sum is enough for routine operations, but would not provide sufficient help for preparation of plans for the Gardendale job and other sewer projects contemplated this year in Fisher Park and Elysian Way, he explained.

There was a brief exchange on questions raised by Councilmen Frank Duffy and Floyd Murray, then the legislation was approved unanimously.

Murray said he wanted to be certain that if Harold (Bus) Cartwright, a junior engineer, is placed on the Gardendale job he would draw his normal hourly wage at the same time. Fellow members assured him Cartwright would drawn only one paycheck.

Councilman George E. Willshaw, finance committee chairman, explained that if the city had hired an outside engineering firm to prepare the detailed plans and supervise the construction in Gardendale, the fees would have been 10 per cent of the $40,000 project cost, or about $4,000. With Bloomgren's office performing the same work, the cost will be 5 per cent, or $2,000, he said.

As the meeting adjourned, Duffy reminded that the five-member "economy" committee will hold its second meeting tonight at 7. He said the general public may attend, as well as employes whose jobs are being studied for possible elimination.

Paper In Toledo Shut By Strike Of Stereotypers

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A strike by the Stereotypers Union shut down publication of the morning Toledo Times Thursday night.

A picket line was set up around the building where the Times and the afternoon Toledo Blade are published.

There was uncertainty whether the Blade would be published today.

James LaCure, president of Local 39, International Stereotypers and Electroplaters Union, said members of his local struck when negotiations on terms for a new contract broke down.

However, Kenneth D. Tooil, managing editor of the Times, said management and the stereotypers were still negotiating early this morning.

LaCure said his union's contract expired Sept. 30. Negotiations had been underway since before expiration of the contract, he added.

The Printers, Pressmen and Teamsters unions recently agreed on contract terms with the company. Mailers and Photoengravers unions, plus the American Newspaper Guild, which represents editorial, advertising, circulation and other employes not in the jurisdiction of the craft unions, are negotiating on contracts.

Macmillan's Party Shaken In Elections

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Macmillan's government was shaken today as Liberals and Laborites walloped the Conservatives in local elections that often reflect the national political trend.

The Conservatives conceded a setback as the opposition seized control of municipal councils in 36 towns. The Tories lost a net of 516 seats in 428 boroughs in England and Wales.

The campaign was fought almost entirely on domestic issues—particularly the Macmillan government's new restraints on wages and dividends and the uncertainties over Britain's prospective entry into the Common Market.

Only about 18 per cent of Americans have made wills.

Man Refuses To List Name After Mishap

A Wellsville man whose car was damaged in a downtown hit-skip crash Thursday night told police he pursued the offending motorist to Chester and halted him, but the unidentified driver refused to discuss the mishap and drove away again.

George Peller, 22, of 1254 Hillcrest Rd. told police the entire left side of his 1957 model convertible was damaged about 10 p. m. at E. 3rd and College Sts. by an auto which crossed the center line.

When the offending driver failed to halt, Peller said, he followed him to Chester and stopped him. But the other driver told Peller his identity was "none of your business" and drove away again, the Wellsville man said.

Peller obtained the license number of the offending car. It was traced to a Hookstown area man.

Two more crashes were reported Thursday night, including another hip-skip.

Otto Jenkins, 22, of 5th Ave., LaCroft, told police the right side of his 1953 four-door sedan was damaged in a hit-and-run collision about 9:20 at W. 8th and Jefferson Sts.

Jenkins told police he and the other motorist were traveling east in parallel lanes of the "superroad" stretch. The unidentified driver apparently started a turn, then changed his mind and hit the side of Jenkins' car, the LaCroft motorist said.

The third mishap was reported by David E. Randolph, 22, of 829½ Avondale St. He said the left side of his 1953 auto was damaged in a mishap at 5:30 p. m. on Moore St. at Claiborne St. Randolph went to headquarters to report the collision. The second auto was identified only by a license number.

Levy Failure To Delay Opening Of Schools

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Failure of an 8-mill school levy to pass in the primary election is forcing the opening of Warren Twp. schools to be delayed until October for the fall semester, officials announced.

They said the levy would be resubmitted in the November general election, and that failure of the levy to pass at that time would force closing the schools until an operating levy passed.

Cleveland Director Sees Layoff Of 1,100

CLEVELAND (AP)— Cleveland Safety Director John N. McCormick estimates he will have to lay off 1,100 persons next year if sufficient funds for operation of his department are not provided. He made the comment Thursday as he studied the effects of the rejection by voters of the city tax levy in Tuesday's election.

He said layoffs would include 250-300 policemen, 200-225 firemen and about 600 civilian employes.

The conferences with the railroad date back more than a year. The 1960-61 Council held several conferences with the railroad officials without arriving at agreement. In the last meeting with the former Council, the Pennsy spokesmen asked the city to share the cost of the new installation. However, that suggestion was withdrawn in the most recent meeting.

Council now is expected to resume negotiations with the railroad on the new protection system.

In other business, Council approved an ordinance authorizing City Engineer George S. Bloomgren to hire three temporary assistants to perform field work in connection with preparation of plans for a Gardendale trunk line sewer and other special projects.

It authorizes the engineer to hire a chief assistant at $2.50 hourly, a junior engineer at $2.25 and a field assistant at $2. Bloomgren requested the legislation in a conference with Council Monday night.

He said his office was authorized $4,000 for hiring of assistants in 1962. The sum is enough for routine operations, but would not provide sufficient help for preparation of plans for the Gardendale job and other sewer projects contemplated this year in Fisher Park and Elysian Way, he explained.

There was a brief exchange on questions raised by Councilmen Frank Duffy and Floyd Murray, then the legislation was approved unanimously.

Murray said he wanted to be certain that if Harold (Bus) Cartwright, a junior engineer, is placed on the Gardendale job he would draw his normal hourly wage at the same time. Fellow members assured him Cartwright would drawn only one paycheck.

Councilman George E. Willshaw, finance committee chairman, explained that if the city had hired an outside engineering firm to prepare the detailed plans and supervise the construction in Gardendale, the fees would have been 10 per cent of the $40,000 project cost, or about $4,000. With Bloomgren's office performing the same work, the cost will be 5 per cent, or $2,000, he said.

As the meeting adjourned, Duffy reminded that the five-member "economy" committee will hold its second meeting tonight at 7. He said the general public may attend, as well as employes whose jobs are being studied for possible elimination.

Paper In Toledo Shut By Strike Of Stereotypers

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A strike by the Stereotypers Union shut down publication of the morning Toledo Times Thursday night.

A picket line was set up around the building where the Times and the afternoon Toledo Blade are published.

There was uncertainty whether the Blade would be published today.

James LaCure, president of Local 39, International Stereotypers and Electroplaters Union, said members of his local struck when negotiations on terms for a new contract broke down.

However, Kenneth D. Tooil, managing editor of the Times, said management and the stereotypers were still negotiating early this morning.

LaCure said his union's contract expired Sept. 30. Negotiations had been underway since before expiration of the contract, he added.

The Printers, Pressmen and Teamsters unions recently agreed on contract terms with the company. Mailers and Photoengravers unions, plus the American Newspaper Guild, which represents editorial, advertising, circulation and other employes not in the jurisdiction of the craft unions, are negotiating on contracts.

Macmillan's Party Shaken In Elections

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Macmillan's government was shaken today as Liberals and Laborites walloped the Conservatives in local elections that often reflect the national political trend.

The Conservatives conceded a setback as the opposition seized control of municipal councils in 36 towns. The Tories lost a net of 516 seats in 428 boroughs in England and Wales.

The campaign was fought almost entirely on domestic issues—particularly the Macmillan government's new restraints on wages and dividends and the uncertainties over Britain's prospective entry into the Common Market.

Only about 18 per cent of Americans have made wills.

Man Refuses To List Name After Mishap

A Wellsville man whose car was damaged in a downtown hit-skip crash Thursday night told police he pursued the offending motorist to Chester and halted him, but the unidentified driver refused to discuss the mishap and drove away again.

George Peller, 22, of 1254 Hillcrest Rd. told police the entire left side of his 1957 model convertible was damaged about 10 p. m. at E. 3rd and College Sts. by an auto which crossed the center line.

When the offending driver failed to halt, Peller said, he followed him to Chester and stopped him. But the other driver told Peller his identity was "none of your business" and drove away again, the Wellsville man said.

Peller obtained the license number of the offending car. It was traced to a Hookstown area man.

Two more crashes were reported Thursday night, including another hip-skip.

Otto Jenkins, 22, of 5th Ave., LaCroft, told police the right side of his 1953 four-door sedan was damaged in a hit-and-run collision about 9:20 at W. 8th and Jefferson Sts.

Jenkins told police he and the other motorist were traveling east in parallel lanes of the "superroad" stretch. The unidentified driver apparently started a turn, then changed his mind and hit the side of Jenkins' car, the LaCroft motorist said.

The third mishap was reported by David E. Randolph, 22, of 829½ Avondale St. He said the left side of his 1953 auto was damaged in a mishap at 5:30 p. m. on Moore St. at Claiborne St. Randolph went to headquarters to report the collision. The second auto was identified only by a license number.

Levy Failure To Delay Opening Of Schools

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Failure of an 8-mill school levy to pass in the primary election is forcing the opening of Warren Twp. schools to be delayed until October for the fall semester, officials announced.

They said the levy would be resubmitted in the November general election, and that failure of the levy to pass at that time would force closing the schools until an operating levy passed.

Cleveland Director Sees Layoff Of 1,100

CLEVELAND (AP)— Cleveland Safety Director John N. McCormick estimates he will have to lay off 1,100 persons next year if sufficient funds for operation of his department are not provided. He made the comment Thursday as he studied the effects of the rejection by voters of the city tax levy in Tuesday's election.

He said layoffs would include 250-300 policemen, 200-225 firemen and about 600 civilian employes.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My name is Billy. I will be 12 years old in August.

All my life I have wanted a dog. My dad says it is up to my mother. My mother says no. I can pay for the dog myself because I have saved my Christmas and Easter money. I would be willling to pay for the dog's food out of my weekly allowance.

We moved into this nice new house last year. My mother says she isn't going to have a dog ruining her new rugs. I promised I would clean up after the dog no matter what he did. My mother says a rug is never the same after a dog has ruined it.

I don't have any brothers or sisters and I think this is the least my mother can do for me. She says a dog is more work than a baby brother. If you print my letter and my mother changes her mind I will get a lady dog and give you one of her first puppies. Thank you.—LONESOME.

Dear Lonesome: This decision is one which must be made by your family. But I would like to say a few words which may help. A pet can bring much joy, and it gives children a sense of responsibility and teaches them unselfishness.

But please, Billy, if your mother changes her mind and says yes, don't send me a puppy. I have new rugs, too.

Artful Dodger

Dear Ann: This is a touchy subject and I need help. I've tried to talk this over with my husband, Harry, but every time I bring up the subject he tells me I'm imagining things.

When we go out for dinner or for an after-the-movie snack with friends, Harry always manages to be away from the table when the waiter brings the check. On the few occasions when he has not been able to leave for the men's room fast enough, he fumbles around until someone else takes it.

Nobody in the crowd is hurting financially, including my husband. In fact he's better off than some of the others. I'm afraid he's getting the well-deserved reputation of a cheap skate. What can I do? — MRS. FREEBEE.

Dear Mrs.: Couples who go out together should take turns picking up the check. When it's your husband's turn and he does his disappearing act, it's perfectly all right for YOU to take the check and say to the others, "I know Harry wants this one." Then hand it to Harry when he returns to the table.

Prefers College Boys

Dear Ann: Our daughter is 17, an excellent student, a fine musician and mature emotionally and physically.

Lorraine has been dating since she was 15. She always has respected the curfew we agreed on and is well behaved. In fact I truthfully can say she never has caused us a moment's concern until just a few months ago.

Now Lorraine says high school boys are dull and uninteresting and she prefers to date college fellows. The young man she likes best is 20. He is a college junior.

My husband feels that Lorraine should go only with boys from her school. He claims college fellows are too fast and smooth for high school girls. I don't know if it would be fair to impose such regulations on Lorraine since she has always shown such good judgment. What is your opinion? — UNDECIDED.

Dear Undecided: A bright, mature 17 - year - old girl isn't likely to be content with a fellow her own age, unless he, too, is unusually bright and mature.

Since Lorraine has demonstrated sound judgment in the past I recommend that you permit her to date college fellows if she wishes.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Embarrassed Silence Jolted Fat Woman

An overweight after being "mad" at your dietitian for a solid year has finally been stirred into action. Her letter is warm and wonderful and so refreshingly frank it is sure to appeal to any woman who has been struggling with a weight problem.

Ida Jean Kain

"Well, I finally made it! Made up my mind, that is, to get on a good diet and stay with it. I've read your column for a year and got mad at you because I knew you were right and I was only kidding myself with the old standby cliches. You know the ones...'My husband says he likes me as I am.' 'I'm too nervous to cope with a diet.' 'I don't look too bad when I have on a good girdle...'

"And all the time I was gaining. It wasn't too bad when family and friends kidded me.

IT WAS WHEN they stopped kidding and acted embarrassed if the subject of overweight came up that I took my measurements and really listened to what the scales were screaming at me.

"Well, I have lost 18 pounds in twenty-four days and I am firmly entrenched on the downward trail. I really am making a sincere attempt to change 37 years of bad eating habits. It's not easy, and please don't tell gals that it is. But the lovely feeling of achievement is there and I am actually beginning to like myself again.

"I started at 224 pounds and now I am down to 206. Your column shows true insight into human hearts and never a trace of a "holier than thou" attitude. Please keep up the good work!"

That's your dietitian's pay for the week, right there!

I admire that young woman. It takes courage to face alibis and to do an about face. Certainly it is not easy to change food habits of a lifetime. But this spirited gal has accepted the challenge, and the reward is the glorious feeling of achievement which she is experiencing. With this changed attitude, her energies will be directed toward success.

Concidentally, in the same mail a letter came from a former overweight who started where this courageous gal is right now. This success story will spark staying-power.

"I weighed 205 pounds and wore size 44 dress. Because I was so short I was just as wide as I was tall. When even size 44 wouldn't fit any more I decided I would have to lose weight. That was the best decision I ever made! I am now down to 128 pounds and wear size 14.

"I DON'T think I ever realized how bad I must have looked until I gave some of my big 44 sizes to a girl friend, and saw them on her. That warning is all I need to keep my weight right from now on."

Never underestimate the will power of a woman once she has made up her mind!

Send a stamped, self - addressed, long envelope for "Choose To Lose Diet." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Defense Wins Verdict In Car Damage Action

LISBON — A Common Pleas Court jury late Wednesday afternoon returned a verdict for the defendant, Rosa Hilton, of Akron in a $35,000 action filed by Mr. and Mrs. Jesse M. Boyd of Sunnyside Ave., East Liverpool, as a result of an alleged traffic mishap Oct. 16, 1960, on the Y. & O. Rd.

The jury deliberated three hours. The trail began Monday, with Judge Joel H. Sharp presiding.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Embarrassed Silence Jolted Fat Woman

An overweight after being "mad" at your dietitian for a solid year has finally been stirred into action. Her letter is warm and wonderful and so refreshingly frank it is sure to appeal to any woman who has been struggling with a weight problem.

Ida Jean Kain

"Well, I finally made it! Made up my mind, that is, to get on a good diet and stay with it. I've read your column for a year and got mad at you because I knew you were right and I was only kidding myself with the old standby cliches. You know the ones...'My husband says he likes me as I am.' 'I'm too nervous to cope with a diet.' 'I don't look too bad when I have on a good girdle...'

"And all the time I was gaining. It wasn't too bad when family and friends kidded me.

IT WAS WHEN they stopped kidding and acted embarrassed if the subject of overweight came up that I took my measurements and really listened to what the scales were screaming at me.

"Well, I have lost 18 pounds in twenty-four days and I am firmly entrenched on the downward trail. I really am making a sincere attempt to change 37 years of bad eating habits. It's not easy, and please don't tell gals that it is. But the lovely feeling of achievement is there and I am actually beginning to like myself again.

"I started at 224 pounds and now I am down to 206. Your column shows true insight into human hearts and never a trace of a "holier than thou" attitude. Please keep up the good work!"

That's your dietitian's pay for the week, right there!

I admire that young woman. It takes courage to face alibis and to do an about face. Certainly it is not easy to change food habits of a lifetime. But this spirited gal has accepted the challenge, and the reward is the glorious feeling of achievement which she is experiencing. With this changed attitude, her energies will be directed toward success.

Concidentally, in the same mail a letter came from a former overweight who started where this courageous gal is right now. This success story will spark staying-power.

"I weighed 205 pounds and wore size 44 dress. Because I was so short I was just as wide as I was tall. When even size 44 wouldn't fit any more I decided I would have to lose weight. That was the best decision I ever made! I am now down to 128 pounds and wear size 14.

"I DON'T think I ever realized how bad I must have looked until I gave some of my big 44 sizes to a girl friend, and saw them on her. That warning is all I need to keep my weight right from now on."

Never underestimate the will power of a woman once she has made up her mind!

Children's Reading Plan Helped Library To Grow

This is the last of three articles on the East Liverpool Public Library in conjunction with its 60th anniversary observance.

CHLEO DESHLER GOODMAN

The onset of World War II again saw a change in library activities. There was a marked decline in reading and the loan of books fell to 82,000 by 1943. But the decline in reading apparently was only an indication of the need each person felt to be doing something constructive for the war effort.

When the local library joined the Ohio Victory Book Campaign —an effort to provide good reading for the men in the Army, Navy and Marine Corps — more than 3,000 volumes were collected in a six-week period.

In 1946, following the close of the war, circulation began to climb again and a loan of 112,142 books was reported. In addition, a children's reading program was again launched under the direction of Miss Cartwright.

One hundred three children qualified for membership by reading 12 books during the summer, with some reading as many as 50. It goes without saying that the reading clubs have contributed greatly to the success of the children's library. They presently are under the direction of Mrs. Hilda McEwen, who first was appointed to the library staff in April 1956.

It is not unusual for 1,500 children to be attracted to the reading program, while a high percentage goes on to complete the project by reading 30 or more books.

GIFTS always have come as welcome additions to the library.

In September 1950, the East Liverpool Review offered the library a gift of nearly 200 rolls of microfilm of The Review, dating back to 1885.

The offer was accepted in 1956 and The Review has continued to supply the film since.

Among other gifts of informative value are the bronze plaques noting historic events on the walls. The majority of these have been supplied by the Chamber of Commerce. There are plaques honoring Andrew Carnegie, the donor of the building; Gen. John Morgan, a Confederate army general who surrendered in Columbiana County during the Civil War; David Blythe, a pre-Civil War artist; Thomas Fawcett, founder of East Liverpool. Sanford C. Hill, author of the famous Hill Almanacs; William Bloor, manufacturer of the first white ware in East Liverpool; Will Thompson, hymn composer, and James Bennett, owner of the first pottery in town.

IN 1955, three regular staff members departed, leaving Miss Cartwright with a heavy burden. Miss Hall retired after 39 years of faithful service in which the library had grown considerably; Wilbert Taylor, who had worked for 10 years, decided on a better paying position in Cleveland, and Kenneth Emerick accepted the job of county librarian in Mansfield. Mrs. Helen Chandler, who had been serving as executive secretary in the Child Counseling Center, came to work, bringing the staff to four. Then in April 1956 Miss Frances Jones was hired to begin work June 1 as chief librarian. A native of Parkersburg, Miss Jones received a bachelor of education degree from Ohio State University and a library science degree from Western Reserve University in 1940.

She also has served as a librarian in Euclid, Cleveland and Steubenville. She served for 39 months during World War II with the Air Transport Command. She came here following a year's work at Marietta.

By this time, too, it was deemed advisable to hire a professional accountant. Richard Crable accepted the position and still continues in this capacity.

Meanwhile, the library building was in need of capital repairs and improvements. Basic changes were begun in 1950 after the board received some special appropriations from the County Budget Commission.

THE JANITOR'S living quarters on the lower level were converted into a trustee room and an historical display area. By excavation, a stack room was created beneath the rotunda, greatly alleviating the congestion on the main floor. The next five years saw the installation of new, modern loan desks, designed to expedite a self - service plan and to simplify and speed the increased volume of business without increasing the size of the staff.

New stacks and new reading room equipment were added, as well as the latest in lighting fixtures. In 1958 the tile dome was replaced and in 1959 the exterior brickwork was completely pointed and steam cleaned. Other various improvements have been accomplished in the last three years, with the air - conditioning of the adult areas of the main floor and draping of the windows in the reading rooms. In 1961 the rear entrance was remodeled and office and work rooms were moved to the lower level, formerly occupied by historical displays. A "teen alcove" was created in what was formerly the office space on the main floor. The latter has done much to eliminate congestion in the reading rooms. The area has been designated the "Jeff Taylor Memorial". The total spent on capital improvements in the 12-year period exceeds $75,000. This figure affords an interesting comparison with the original cost of the structure, which was $50,000.

The improvements by no means have come to an end, for the library has proved itself to be one of the busiest spots in town. The number of loans in 1961 was 224,221, with an active borrowing membership of 10,317. A total of 3,765 new volumes was added to the book list the past year, bringing to 75,000 the number of volumes housed by the library. This in turn has necessitated the need for a larger staff, which now stands at seven full - time workers, plus two or three students filling in part time and a custodian. All of this has been possible by increased budget considerations, which last year totaled $59,800.

THE LIBRARY has become more than just a place from which to borrow books. It owns several hundred film strips and in 1961 there were 1,115 showings of educational movies made possible through the library. It is also the site of an arts and crafts show, an event eagerly anticipated by artists of the area.

Likewise, the camera club has used it in the past for their shows. "Story - hours" for pre- school children attract an interested group, as does the "Civil War Roundtable", created for the benefit of Civil war buffs of the area.

A great deal of credit for the success of the library must be given also to the trustees, who have worked so diligently over the years without pay.

For existing records it would appear that Judge Harry Brokaw was not only poet laureate of East Liverpool, but also dean of trustees as well, having served 21 years, 19 as president.

Close on his record is Harold Barth, with 20 years of service, much of it during the years of renovation when the work of the board was heavy. Another who deserves praise for his work is the Rev. M. Rudolph Miller, who succeeded Judge Brokaw as president of the board and continued to serve for 12 years. To him fell the task of guiding the board through the renovation years.

Others who have served a considerable length of time were: John McGillivray, 10 years; Mrs. Frank Crook, 10 years; Mrs. William Kress, 7, and Fred McGillivray and Mrs. Harry Altman 6 years each.

The present board is comprised of Robert Kapp, president, who was appointed in 1957; Sara Heddieston, vice president, with a total of 14 years to her credit, having first been appointed in 1948; John N. Mostoller, secretary, who was appointed in January to replace Wilford Padgett, who resigned when he moved outside the city limits, and James McGowan, treasurer, first appointed in 1957. The other trustees are Chleo Goodman, appointed in 1960, and Richard Waggle, appointed in January of this year to replace William Watkin who was forced to resign for health reasons.

Why has this library been able to succeed where so many others have failed?

According to Miss Jones "it has been able to grow because it has been comparatively free from censorship and pressure groups. A good library is not a stagnant place without change, but is constantly adjusting to the spirit of the times. A library is not a storage house, but is rather like a power house serving as a dynamo to provide inspiration and knowledge".

Palestine Gets Option For Sewage Plant Site

EAST PALESTINE — Option has been taken by the city on a 1½-acre tract adjacent to the city sewage plant for the site of a proposed enlargement of the facility, Mayor Robert Harding announced.

Robert Davis of Park Dr. is owner of the land which officials previously believed was owned by the city. A recent survey disclosed the tract lies in an area owned by Davis, and a price of about $2,500 has been set.

The Floyd Browne Associates of Marion is preparing plans for the new improvement and Council is expected to set new sewage rates in preparation for filing an application for a federal grant in the $330,000 project.

Union Awaits 68 Proposals At Convention

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters said today 68 resolutions now have been proposed by local unions for action at the annual convention in July at San Francisco.

Thirty - seven of the proposals were filed within the last week, covering a wide variety of union business. The IBOP announced previously that next Tuesday will be the deadline for submitting the resoltuions to headquarters.

Some of the new proposals would:

Require office workers and other IBOP employes to belong to the union; eliminate the posts of organizers and substitute vice presidents up to a total of 18; cut the terms of international officers to three years; move the offices of the international president and secretary to Washington; pay convention delegates $30 a day, plus mileage.

Require listing of the salaries of international officers in the constitution; add $2.50 per week for each dependent to the $25 weekly strike benefit; make new and reinstated members eligible for strike benefits after three months; establish a "Letters to the Editor" column in the official newspaper, The Potters Herald, and restrain it from printing anything "impugning the motives or reflecting upon the honesty" of any member.

Hold conventions biennially, rather than annually; require an Executive Board member to resign from office from running for a vacnacy on the same board; require that convention committees be chosen by lot, rather than appointed; boost strike benefits to $35 weekly, and station an international vice president in each district office to handle union business.

Parochial Unit's Officer Named

John Hoffman of Highland Ave. has been named chairman of the Immaculate Conception Parochial School Home and School Association at Wellsville. Other officers will be appointed.

The organization will meet four times a year. The annual dinner will be held June 1 at the St. Patrick Parish at Hubbard, the former parish of Fr. Gerald Curran, pastor of Immaculate Conception.

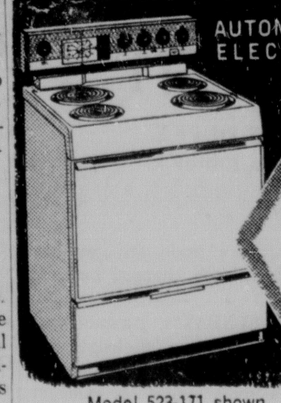

A parish picnic will be held in the near future. Fr. Curren has formed a group of boys known as "We-Lo-We" that is aiding in the cleanup of Wellsville streets. They collect papers in boxes and burn them.

The association met Monday night at the school. The band played three selections. Mayor William Daugherty was guest speaker.

Mrs. Peggy Rawlings, former president, presided.

Union Awaits 68 Proposals At Convention

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters said today 68 resolutions now have been proposed by local unions for action at the annual convention in July at San Francisco.

Thirty - seven of the proposals were filed within the last week, covering a wide variety of union business. The IBOP announced previously that next Tuesday will be the deadline for submitting the resoltuions to headquarters.

Some of the new proposals would:

Require office workers and other IBOP employes to belong to the union; eliminate the posts of organizers and substitute vice presidents up to a total of 18; cut the terms of international officers to three years; move the offices of the international president and secretary to Washington; pay convention delegates $30 a day, plus mileage.

Require listing of the salaries of international officers in the constitution; add $2.50 per week for each dependent to the $25 weekly strike benefit; make new and reinstated members eligible for strike benefits after three months; establish a "Letters to the Editor" column in the official newspaper, The Potters Herald, and restrain it from printing anything "impugning the motives or reflecting upon the honesty" of any member.

Hold conventions biennially, rather than annually; require an Executive Board member to resign from office from running for a vacnacy on the same board; require that convention committees be chosen by lot, rather than appointed; boost strike benefits to $35 weekly, and station an international vice president in each district office to handle union business.

Parochial Unit's Officer Named

John Hoffman of Highland Ave. has been named chairman of the Immaculate Conception Parochial School Home and School Association at Wellsville. Other officers will be appointed.

The organization will meet four times a year. The annual dinner will be held June 1 at the St. Patrick Parish at Hubbard, the former parish of Fr. Gerald Curran, pastor of Immaculate Conception.

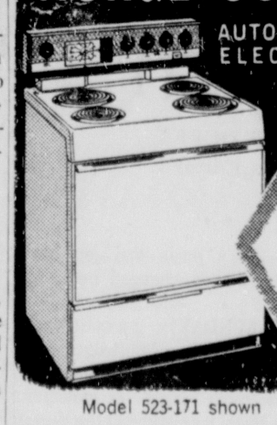

A parish picnic will be held in the near future. Fr. Curren has formed a group of boys known as "We-Lo-We" that is aiding in the cleanup of Wellsville streets. They collect papers in boxes and burn them.

The association met Monday night at the school. The band played three selections. Mayor William Daugherty was guest speaker.

Mrs. Peggy Rawlings, former president, presided.

The Sports Bench

Wasn't Always Rosy . . .

Bernie Allen is in the big leagues now, but his brief career in professional baseball hasn't always been rosy.

A Charlotte (N.C.) sportswriter, who covered that Sally League team, reports that Allen's start in the minors was a shaky one.

It seems it will take the fans in Charlotte some time to get use to the fact that Allen is in the Major Leagues.

The fans there didn't show much in the way of "southern hospitality" when Allen arrived in that city last summer with a $50,000 bonus tag on him. The fans rode him rather viciously from the stands and his performance in the field and at the plate was nothing to write home about. In 79 games at Charlotte he hit .241 and made 21 errors.

At one time during the season, Allen even talked about what kind of work he might turn to if he flunked out of baseball. The writer said, "Allen was a depressed youngster when he left Charlotte last season."

However, the winter instructional league and the confidence that the Twins have shown in East Liverpool's pride and joy have made Allen a changed man.

IN SUNDAY'S game when Bernie became a full-fledged hero with the game-winning home run in the ninth inning, his manager, Sam Mele, was asked in the dressing room after the game if he had considered using a righthanded pinchitter for Allen against Detroit's southpaw pitcher.

UP UNTIL Thursday's game with Cleveland, Allen had collected 20 hits and out of that total 11 were for extra bases, including five doubles, two triples and four home runs.

Allen's hitting streak was ended Thursday at 13 games when he went 0-for-4 in the Twin's 9-4 loss to Cleveland. His batting average going into yesterday's game was an even .250 but the four trips without a hit dropped it to .238.

N. Cumberland Lad In Saddle . . .

A NEW CUMBERLAND lad who aspires to riding will be seen at Waterford Park during the summer racing season.

He is Austin Gillespie, an 18-year-old, who lives only about six miles from the Hancock County track.

Young Gillespie stands 5-feet-2 and weighs in at 105 pounds, so he has all the qualifications to be a jockey as far as size goes.

He started as a stablehand for trainer Harry Hoffman of Providence, R.I., worked his way up to exercise boy and now has earned the right to ride.

Hoffman said that Gillespie is "one of the most promising prospects I've seen in years". He plans to use him aboard all his mounts during Waterford's summer meeting.

ELHS Quartet Holds Mark . . .

EAST Liverpool's track forces have never fared too well in the Columbiana County meet, with only two outright victories and one tie in 58 attempts.

However, four East Liverpool runners are in the county record books for a record in the mile relay.

A quartet of Art Peters, Dave Betteridge, Jim Paynter and Bill O'Neil lowered the time in the 1958 meet, which was held at East Palestine. They were clocked at 3:37.3.

East Liverpool athletes have actually owned the mile relay mark since 1952 when a foursome of Dan Cooper, Jerry Wines, Pete Wooley and Leo Lawrence turned the mile distance in 3:37.7.

While the field is expected to be balanced tonight, no outsanding times or measurements have been turned in by county track and field men this spring so records should not be in jeopardy.

The outstanding individual of the meet could be Columbiana's Jim Ward, who has the fastest times in the dash events.

It should be a battle between Columbiana and Salem. We feel the Quakers overall depth will win out.

Indians Win Twins' Series, Wait Yanks

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Fresh from a successful road trip and with first place in their sights, the Cleveland Indians now go for broke in a four-game series with the New York Yankees that could prove the most telling of the young American League season.

Sparked by rookie outfielder Ty Cline, the Indians rapped Minnesota 9-4 Thursday and inched to within 1½ games of the front-running Yankees, who had the day off. That was the Tribe's fifth victory in its last seven games.

Cline had a pair of two-run singles as the Indians roared away from the Twins with four runs in the fourth inning and four more in the fifth, and also chipped in with another single in Cleveland's 13-hit offensive.

Also in the AL, Early Wynn registered pitching victory No. 294 as the Chicago White Sox beat Washington 3-1, Los Angeles downed Detroit 6-4, Baltimore beat Kansas City 5-2. Boston, like the Yankees, took the day off.

Thursday against the Twins, Perry got bombed for homers by the first two men he faced, Lennie Green and Vic Power, and fell behind 3-0 when Green doubled in another run in the second. But the Indians rocked loser Don Lee, Georges Maranda and Ted Sadowski for their four-run bursts in the fourth and fifth, making it a breeze for Perry the rest of the way.

Wynn (2-1) checked the Senators on seven hits and was two outs away from the 47th shutout of his 22-year big league career when doubled by Dale Long and Gene Woodling produced the Washington run. The White Sox broke a scoreless tie with two runs off Bennie Daniels in the sixth and got another run on Al Smith's homer in the eighth.

Ryne Duren, making the fourth save in his last five appearances, stifled the Tigers on just one hit over the final three innings in preserving the victory for Jack Spring and the Angels. Detroit powered to a 4-3 edge in the fifth when Jake Wood smacked a three-run homer and Al Kaline hit his 10th.

But Billy Moran's triple and a single by Leon Wagner tied it in the bottom of the fifth, and Albie Pearson's sacrifice fly brought in the winner in the sixth. Doug Gallagher was the loser.

Supported by homers from Jim Gentile and Charley Lau, Chuck Estrada and Hoyt Wilhelm tamed Kansas City batters down the stretch as the Orioles overcame the A's. Jerry Walker was the loser.

County Thinclads Off And Running

The 59th Columbiana County track and field meet got underway this afternoon under overcast skies at East Palestine.

Trials, along with finals in the discus and shot put got underway this afternoon, but most of the action will unfold tonight when the finals are scheduled for 7.

Salem and Columbiana are expected to wage a nip-and-tuck battle tonight. The Quakers will be out to defend their crown and also seek their 25th title.

East Palestine, which usually gets into a dog fight with Salem for the title, isn't as strong this season as compared to past years.

Wellsville and East Liverpool figure to be contenders for the crown, but Salem and Columbiana runners have turned in the best times on the county cinders this season.

Nine schools are in the field, including Leetonia, Crestview, Beaver Local and United.

Top runners for East Liverpool will include Clyde Griffith in the 440-yard dash, Gary McKee in the distances, Dave Harriel in the 100 and 220-yard events, Jim Richardson and Bob Parsons in the hurdles and the two relay teams.

Withers Mile Features Saturday's Race Card

By The Associated Press

The 1962 Kentucky Derby has gone into history, but the 3-year-old horses occupy the spotlight again this week as a gang of Preakness candidates prepare for heavy action at New York and Baltimore.

Heading the Saturday racing program is the $50,000-added Withers Mile at Aqueduct, where George D. Widener's Jaipur meets 10 or 11 rivals in the 87th running of that famous stakes.

At Pimlico, where the 86th running of the Preakness will be held a week from Saturday, Brandywine Stable's Greek Money and Christiana Stable's Smart strut their stuff in the $5,000 Preakness Prep.

Jaipur is the colt everyone will be watching, for a decisive Withers victory could make him the favorite for the $150,000-added Preakness in spite of the presence of Decidedly, the Derby winner.

His chief Withers opponent is expected to be Charles W. Engelhard's Nassau Hall, a son of Nashua who won the Delaware Valley Stakes last month at Garden State Park. Nassau Hall was not in the Derby, will skip the Preakness, but may tackle the Belmont June 9.

The Preakness Prep is 1 1-16 miles, and three of its last five winners have gone on to capture the Preakness—Bold Ruler, Bally Ache and Royal Orbit.

Palmer Takes Stroke Edge In Colonial

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, his booming driver under control and sporting a one-stroke lead, headed a classy Colonial field today into the second round of the golf tournament.

The Pennsylvania pro served notice Thursday that he fully intends to add to his bulging trophy case the title that has painfully evaded him in seven previous appearances here.

Palmer, already a five-time current champion and the tour's leading money winner with $52,308 shot a sizzling 67 to take command of the $40,400 event which carries a $7,000 first place check.

Duren Hurls Himself Off Trade Block

This if hardly the reason the Los Angeles Angels have suddenly become reluctant to trade Ryne Duren.

Duren, it appears, has pitched himself off the market.

In his last five appearances, the former New York Yankee reliever has saved four games for the Angels and hasn't allowed a run. In the same span—10⅓ innings—he has struck out 14 and walked only three.

Although he has won only one game and lost two, Duren has reduced his earned run average to 1.63 and has just about suppressed rumbles that he might be traded for a right-handed-hitting outfielder.

He pitched three more scoreless innings Thursday as the Angels recovered after blowing a three-run lead and defeated the Detroit Tigers 6-4. Jake Wood, the only man to reach base against Duren, was wiped out in a double play after singling in the ninth.

South Siders Routed, 16-6

Playing without seven senior members who are away on a class trip, South Side's baseball squad committed 12 errors in losing a 16-6 game to Rochester Thursday at Vanport.

Rochester came up with three four-run innings, including the second, fourth and sixth. The winners scored two runs each in the third and fifth frames.

Jack Miles and Mick Dawson each had two hits. South Side collected eight hits while Rochester nicked Trimble for 13.

Top Track Marks Hung Up In Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's high school cinder stars, aiming at the state track-field championships May 25-26, have hung up some nifty performances in the spring tuneup meets.

Ed Chay, scholastic sports scribe for the Cleveland Plain Dealer, has kept an eagle eye on the thinclads. He reports that Henry Burlong and Al Payne of Dayton Roosevelt's defending Class AA state kings have two of the top marks, and Robbie Neutzling and Bob Densham of Columbus Whitehall have two others.

Neutzling has a 13-foot 9½-inch effort in the pole vault, just an eighth off the 13-9⅝ state record set in 1939 by Mansfield's Jerry Linta. Densham's 6-foot 5¾-inch high jump is the state's best of the year.

Burlong, the state's No. 1 basketball player, heads the broad jumpers with 23 feet 6¾ inches. Payne's 1:57 is best in the half-mile run, and the Teddies' Lee Calhoun is next with 1:57.1.

The eye-catching performance of the new season was the 4:19.7 mile traversed by Andy Schramm of Cincinnati Deer Park in the Lockland Relays. That's the fastest schoolboy mile ever run in Ohio, and eclipses the state record of 4:24.6 set in 1936 by Bob Curtis of East Cleveland Shaw.

440-Yard Dash: Taylor, Shaker Heights, :49.0; Stone, Akron North, :49.6; Warmack, East Tech, :49.7; Burton, Cleveland East, :49.7; Payne, Dayton Roosevelt, :49.9.

880-Yard Run: Payne, Roosevelt, 1:57; Calhoun, Roosevelt, 1:57.1; Gilbert, Cleveland Glenville, 1:57.7.

Mile Run: Schramm, Deer Park, 4:19.7; Gilbert, Cleveland Glenville, 4:21.5; Whalen, Euclid, 4:23.2; Eckert, Worthington, 4:23.6.

120-Yard High Hurdles: Garrett, Dayton Dunbar, :14.2; Morrow, Collinwood, :14.4; Goings, Toledo Libbey, and Davenport, Warren Howland, :14.5.

180-Yard Low Hurdles: Goings, Libbey, :19.6; Davenport, Howland, :19.7; Morrow, Collinwood, and Robinson, Cleveland East, :19.8.

880-Yard Relay: Shaker Heights 1:28.7; East Tech 1:29; Dayton Dunbar 1:30; Springield South 1:30.3.

Canton Boxer Wins; 2 Other Ohioans Lose

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — Marion Conner, a 175-pounder from Canton, Ohio, stopped Andy Holt of Detroit in the fourth round of their preliminary bout here Thursday night. Two other Ohioans weren't as lucky.

Tommy Fix, a 120 - pounder from Marion, was stopped in the fourth round by Tony Morgan of Buffalo and Skippy Gray, a 170-pound Ashtabula product, lost on a disqualification to Manny Quinney of Buffalo.

Potter Nine Drops 4th In 8-3 Loss At Weirton

A four-run fourth inning which saw Weirton collecting five hits sent the East Liverpool Potter baseball squad to an (8-3) loss, its fourth in nine starts this season.

Coach Jack Bair's nine broke on top taking a 2-0 lead on single runs in the first and second innings. Agnew and Ed Six struck the big blows in the first inning to produce one run then Frank McComas doubled home Wolfe with a marker in the second frame.

Weirton scored one run in the second inning then went in front with a two-run third frame before coming up with the big fourth inning.

Six, who has won five games for the Potters this season started but was relieved by Roger Linville who was followed by Ron Burns. Linville was charged with the loss.

Qualifying For 500 Set On Saturday

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The possibility that somebody will travel the 2½ miles around old Indianapolis Motor Speedway in one minute flat is expected to attract upward of 100,000 speed fans Saturday to the first qualifying session for the 46th 500-mile race May 30.

Parnelli Jones of Torrance, Calif., king of the high-banked half-mile tracks, has missed the first 150-mile-an-hour lap by only 12-100 of a second in practice. His speed on the unofficial run was 149.701 against the two-year-old official record of 149.610 by Jim Hurtubise, Lennox, Calif.

Cars qualifying Saturday will hold their positions in the starting lineup, regardless of speeds made in other qualifying runs Sunday and the following weekend. However, the 33 fastest cars over all will make up the field.

Carry Back, winner of the 1961 Kentucky Derby, ran more races as a 2-year-old than any other Derby winner. The colt owned by Mrs. Katherine Price started 21 times as a juvenile.

Wasn't Always Rosy . . .

Bernie Allen is in the big leagues now, but his brief career in professional baseball hasn't always been rosy.

A Charlotte (N.C.) sportswriter, who covered that Sally League team, reports that Allen's start in the minors was a shaky one.

It seems it will take the fans in Charlotte some time to get use to the fact that Allen is in the Major Leagues.

The fans there didn't show much in the way of "southern hospitality" when Allen arrived in that city last summer with a $50,000 bonus tag on him. The fans rode him rather viciously from the stands and his performance in the field and at the plate was nothing to write home about. In 79 games at Charlotte he hit .241 and made 21 errors.

At one time during the season, Allen even talked about what kind of work he might turn to if he flunked out of baseball. The writer said, "Allen was a depressed youngster when he left Charlotte last season."

However, the winter instructional league and the confidence that the Twins have shown in East Liverpool's pride and joy have made Allen a changed man.

IN SUNDAY'S game when Bernie became a full-fledged hero with the game-winning home run in the ninth inning, his manager, Sam Mele, was asked in the dressing room after the game if he had considered using a righthanded pinchitter for Allen against Detroit's southpaw pitcher.

UP UNTIL Thursday's game with Cleveland, Allen had collected 20 hits and out of that total 11 were for extra bases, including five doubles, two triples and four home runs.

Allen's hitting streak was ended Thursday at 13 games when he went 0-for-4 in the Twin's 9-4 loss to Cleveland. His batting average going into yesterday's game was an even .250 but the four trips without a hit dropped it to .238.

N. Cumberland Lad In Saddle . . .

A NEW CUMBERLAND lad who aspires to riding will be seen at Waterford Park during the summer racing season.

He is Austin Gillespie, an 18-year-old, who lives only about six miles from the Hancock County track.

Young Gillespie stands 5-feet-2 and weighs in at 105 pounds, so he has all the qualifications to be a jockey as far as size goes.

He started as a stablehand for trainer Harry Hoffman of Providence, R.I., worked his way up to exercise boy and now has earned the right to ride.

Hoffman said that Gillespie is "one of the most promising prospects I've seen in years". He plans to use him aboard all his mounts during Waterford's summer meeting.

ELHS Quartet Holds Mark . . .

EAST Liverpool's track forces have never fared too well in the Columbiana County meet, with only two outright victories and one tie in 58 attempts.

However, four East Liverpool runners are in the county record books for a record in the mile relay.

A quartet of Art Peters, Dave Betteridge, Jim Paynter and Bill O'Neil lowered the time in the 1958 meet, which was held at East Palestine. They were clocked at 3:37.3.

East Liverpool athletes have actually owned the mile relay mark since 1952 when a foursome of Dan Cooper, Jerry Wines, Pete Wooley and Leo Lawrence turned the mile distance in 3:37.7.

While the field is expected to be balanced tonight, no outsanding times or measurements have been turned in by county track and field men this spring so records should not be in jeopardy.

The outstanding individual of the meet could be Columbiana's Jim Ward, who has the fastest times in the dash events.

It should be a battle between Columbiana and Salem. We feel the Quakers overall depth will win out.

Top Track Marks Hung Up In Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's high school cinder stars, aiming at the state track-field championships May 25-26, have hung up some nifty performances in the spring tuneup meets.

Ed Chay, scholastic sports scribe for the Cleveland Plain Dealer, has kept an eagle eye on the thinclads. He reports that Henry Burlong and Al Payne of Dayton Roosevelt's defending Class AA state kings have two of the top marks, and Robbie Neutzling and Bob Densham of Columbus Whitehall have two others.

Neutzling has a 13-foot 9½-inch effort in the pole vault, just an eighth off the 13-9⅜ state record set in 1939 by Mansfield's Jerry Linta. Densham's 6-foot 5¾-inch high jump is the state's best of the year.

Burlong, the state's No. 1 basketball player, heads the broad jumpers with 23 feet 6¾ inches. Payne's 1:57 is best in the half-mile run, and the Teddies' Lee Calhoun is next with 1:57.1.

The eye-catching performance of the new season was the 4:19.7 mile traversed by Andy Schramm of Cincinnati Deer Park in the Lockland Relays. That's the fastest schoolboy mile ever run in Ohio, and eclipses the state record of 4:24.6 set in 1936 by Bob Curtis of East Cleveland Shaw.

Indians Win Twins' Series, Wait Yanks

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Fresh from a successful road trip and with first place in their sights, the Cleveland Indians now go for broke in a four-game series with the New York Yankees that could prove the most telling of the young American League season.

Sparked by rookie outfielder Ty Cline, the Indians rapped Minnesota 9-4 Thursday and inched to within 1½ games of the front-running Yankees, who had the day off. That was the Tribe's fifth victory in its last seven games.

Cline had a pair of two-run singles as the Indians roared away from the Twins with four runs in the fourth inning and four more in the fifth, and also chipped in with another single in Cleveland's 13-hit offensive.

Also in the AL, Early Wynn registered pitching victory No. 294 as the Chicago White Sox beat Washington 3-1, Los Angeles downed Detroit 6-4, Baltimore beat Kansas City 5-2. Boston, like the Yankees, took the day off.

Thursday against the Twins, Perry got bombed for homers by the first two men he faced, Lennie Green and Vic Power, and fell behind 3-0 when Green doubled in another run in the second. But the Indians rocked loser Don Lee, Georges Maranda and Ted Sadowski for their four-run bursts in the fourth and fifth, making it a breeze for Perry the rest of the way.

Wynn (2-1) checked the Senators on seven hits and was two outs away from the 47th shutout of his 22-year big league career when doubled by Dale Long and Gene Woodling produced the Washington run. The White Sox broke a scoreless tie with two runs off Bennie Daniels in the sixth and got another run on Al Smith's homer in the eighth.

Ryne Duren, making the fourth save in his last five appearances, stifled the Tigers on just one hit over the final three innings in preserving the victory for Jack Spring and the Angels. Detroit powered to a 4-3 edge in the fifth when Jake Wood smacked a three-run homer and Al Kaline hit his 10th.

But Billy Moran's triple and a single by Leon Wagner tied it in the bottom of the fifth, and Albie Pearson's sacrifice fly brought in the winner in the sixth. Doug Gallagher was the loser.

Supported by homers from Jim Gentile and Charley Lau, Chuck Estrada and Hoyt Wilhelm tamed Kansas City batters down the stretch as the Orioles overcame the A's. Jerry Walker was the loser.

County Thinclads Off And Running

The 59th Columbiana County track and field meet got underway this afternoon under overcast skies at East Palestine.

Trials, along with finals in the discus and shot put got underway this afternoon, but most of the action will unfold tonight when the finals are scheduled for 7.

Salem and Columbiana are expected to wage a nip-and-tuck battle tonight. The Quakers will be out to defend their crown and also seek their 25th title.

East Palestine, which usually gets into a dog fight with Salem for the title, isn't as strong this season as compared to past years.

Wellsville and East Liverpool figure to be contenders for the crown, but Salem and Columbiana runners have turned in the best times on the county cinders this season.

Nine schools are in the field, including Leetonia, Crestview, Beaver Local and United.

Top runners for East Liverpool will include Clyde Griffith in the 440-yard dash, Gary McKee in the distances, Dave Harriel in the 100 and 220-yard events, Jim Richardson and Bob Parsons in the hurdles and the two relay teams.

Withers Mile Features Saturday's Race Card

By The Associated Press

The 1962 Kentucky Derby has gone into history, but the 3-year-old horses occupy the spotlight again this week as a gang of Preakness candidates prepare for heavy action at New York and Baltimore.

Heading the Saturday racing program is the $50,000-added Withers Mile at Aqueduct, where George D. Widener's Jaipur meets 10 or 11 rivals in the 87th running of that famous stakes.

At Pimlico, where the 86th running of the Preakness will be held a week from Saturday, Brandywine Stable's Greek Money and Christiana Stable's Smart strut their stuff in the $5,000 Preakness Prep.

Jaipur is the colt everyone will be watching, for a decisive Withers victory could make him the favorite for the $150,000-added Preakness in spite of the presence of Decidedly, the Derby winner.

His chief Withers opponent is expected to be Charles W. Engelhard's Nassau Hall, a son of Nashua who won the Delaware Valley Stakes last month at Garden State Park. Nassau Hall was not in the Derby, will skip the Preakness, but may tackle the Belmont June 9.

The Preakness Prep is 1 1-16 miles, and three of its last five winners have gone on to capture the Preakness—Bold Ruler, Bally Ache and Royal Orbit.

Palmer Takes Stroke Edge In Colonial

The Pennsylvania pro served notice Thursday that he fully intends to add to his bulging trophy case the title that has painfully evaded him in seven previous appearances here.

Palmer, already a five-time current champion and the tour's leading money winner with $52,308 shot a sizzling 67 to take command of the $40,400 event which carries a $7,000 first place check.

Gary Player	34-34—68

Duren Hurls Himself Off Trade Block

This if hardly the reason the Los Angeles Angels have suddenly become reluctant to trade Ryne Duren.

Duren, it appears, has pitched himself off the market.

In his last five appearances, the former New York Yankee reliever has saved four games for the Angels and hasn't allowed a run. In the same span—10⅓ innings—he has struck out 14 and walked only three.

Although he has won only one game and lost two, Duren has reduced his earned run average to 1.63 and has just about suppressed rumbles that he might be traded for a right-handed-hitting outfielder.

He pitched three more scoreless innings Thursday as the Angels recovered after blowing a three-run lead and defeated the Detroit Tigers 6-4. Jake Wood, the only man to reach base against Duren, was wiped out in a double play after singling in the ninth.

O'Dell Blanks Cards, 6-0; Drysdale Wins On 3-Hitter

Milwaukee Nips Pittsburgh, 4-3

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Each won his fifth game Thursday night with standout pitching performances, maintaining quick starts that could get them into the 20-victory circle for the first time.

O'Dell, 29, a southpaw, boosted San Francisco's National League lead over second-place St. Louis to four games by allowing the Cardinals only four singles while his Giant teammates were pounding out 11 hits for a 6-0 victory.

Drysdale, 25, a right-hander, moved third-place Los Angeles within .19 percentage points of the runner-up Redbirds with a three-hitter, setting down 17 consecutive batters during one strecth of the Dodgers' 6-2 triumph over Houston's Colts.

Only one other game was played in the NL, Milwaukee edging Pittsburgh 4-3 on Frank Bolling's ninth inning homer before 2,746 fans—lowest turnout at home in Braves' history. The New York Mets-Chicago Cubs game again was postponed due to cold. Philadelphia and Cincinnati had an off day.

O'Dell remained unbeaten and hurled his third complete game in a row by baffling the Cards until play was halted by rain with two out in the last of the ninth. It was the first time the Cards had been blanked this season.

The Giants struck for two runs in the fourth inning against Bob Gibson (3-2) on a single by Willie McCovey, Orlando Cepeda's double and a double by Felipe Alou that chased both home.

Drysdale, who has lost once, allowed both Colt runs on homers. Roman Mejias hit his eighth, an inside-the-park job in the first inning, and Carl Warwick got the other with two out in the ninth.

Held to six hits by Bob Bruce (1-1) and Don McMahon, the Dodgers took a lead they never relinquished when rookie Larry Burright tagged his first major league homer after walks to Ron Fairly and John Roseboro in the fourth.

The Braves sent the Pirates reeling to their seventh loss in eight games. Bolling applied the crusher, snapping a 3-3 tie in the ninth with a homer off Elroy Face (1-1). The Braves had pulled even in the eighth when Mack Jones homered after a walk to Howie Bedell and Tommie Aaron's single. Rookie Hank Fischer (1-1), working in relief of Bob Hendley, picked up the victory.

Johnson Wins In Battle For Fight Purse

By GEORGE ESPER

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Harold Johnson, the National Boxing Association light heavyweight champion, has won the first round of a legal bout with his manager over purses and now has his sights set on Doug Jones in their 15-round nationally televised title bout at the arena Saturday night.

"I feel better now," said Johnson, 33, who had threatened to pull out of the fight if his purse were held in escrow by legal action or if his manager, Pat Olivieri, was allowed to take the manager's share immediately after the fight.

But late Thursday it was decided after conferences among attorneys, a judge and Alfred M. Klein, a member of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission, that Johnson's 50 per cent share of the purse would not be held up.

But Olivieri's 50 per cent cut will be impounded pending the outcome of the champion's suit to break his contract with the manager and collect $4,600 which he claims Olivieri owes him from the Eddie Cotton fight last August. A hearing is set for June 4.

Johnson has claimed it was stipulated when he signed the contract for the Jones' fight he was to get his share immediately while Olivieri's would be held up pending disposition of the case.

Johnson and Jones, 25, the No. 1 contender from New York, who has lost only once in 20 fights, finished up the heavy work in their training grind. Both planned loosening up workouts today before Saturday's noon weigh-in.

Boxing Probe Group Sets Public Hearings

NEW YORK (AP) — A joint legislative committee investigating boxing—which could conceivably put an end to the sport in New York State—will begin public hearings here May 21.

The committee said the hearings in New York City will deal first with the welterweight championship fight between Emile Griffith and Benny (Kid) Paret in Madison Square Garden, in which Paret sustained fatal injuries.

Assemblyman Howard H. Plumadore, Republican from Saranac Lake who announced the dates Thursday, declined to say, however, who would be subpoenaed. "We'll name names at the hearings," he said.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A call for more organizers went out Thursday as the 28th annual three-day convention of the Ohio Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO opened here.

One-Hitter Ends Midland's Hopes

The win was the seventh in eight games for the Lions. They have two games remaining with Monaca and South Side. A win in either game will assure New Brighton of the title.

Watson had retired the first 11 Leopard batters to face him before he gave up a free pass to Buddy Reed with one out in the fourth.

Reedpromptly stole second and Holava then came through with the only Midland hit of the game, Reed stopping at third and Holava moving into second on the throw back to the infield.

Watson then got Dave Troup to pop up to third and Pete Cilli to roll out to short to end the inning.

Watson struck out and walked three batters in his seven innings of pitching. Midland right-hander Chuck Krause went the distance for Midland and gave up seven hits, while walking two and striking out five.

New Brighton scored its two runs in the first two innings. In the first the Lions loaded the bases on two singles and a fielder's choice.

Coach Picks Student Manager For Punting

"That's our boy," Mitchell said.

O'Dell Blanks Cards, 6-0; Drysdale Wins On 3-Hitter

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Billy O'Dell and Don Drysdale, a pair of talented tossers who serve 'em up from different sides, are headed in the same direction.

Each won his fifth game Thursday night with standout pitching performances, maintaining quick starts that could get them into the 20-victory circle for the first time.

O'Dell, 29, a southpaw, boosted San Francisco's National League lead over second-place St. Louis to four games by allowing the Cardinals only four singles while his Giant teammates were pounding out 11 hits for a 6-0 victory.

Drysdale, 25, a right-hander, moved third-place Los Angeles within .19 percentage points of the runner-up Redbirds with a three-hitter, setting down 17 consecutive batters during one strecth of the Dodgers' 6-2 triumph over Houston's Colts.

Only one other game was played in the NL, Milwaukee edging Pittsburgh 4-3 on Frank Bolling's ninth inning homer before 2,746 fans—lowest turnout at home in Braves' history. The New York Mets-Chicago Cubs game again was postponed due to cold. Philadelphia and Cincinnati had an off day.

O'Dell remained unbeaten and hurled his third complete game in a row by baffling the Cards until play was halted by rain with two out in the last of the ninth. It was the first time the Cards had been blanked this season.

The Giants struck for two runs in the fourth inning against Bob Gibson (3-2) on a single by Willie McCovey, Orlando Cepeda's double and a double by Felipe Alou that chased both home.

Drysdale, who has lost once, allowed both Colt runs on homers. Roman Mejias hit his eighth, an inside-the-park job in the first inning, and Carl Warwick got the other with two out in the ninth.

Held to six hits by Bob Bruce (1-1) and Don McMahon, the Dodgers took a lead they never relinquished when rookie Larry Burright tagged his first major league homer after walks to Ron Fairly and John Roseboro in the fourth.

The Braves sent the Pirates reeling to their seventh loss in eight games. Bolling applied the crusher, snapping a 3-3 tie in the ninth with a homer off Elroy Face (1-1). The Braves had pulled even in the eighth when Mack Jones homered after a walk to Howie Bedell and Tommie Aaron's single. Rookie Hank Fischer (1-1), working in relief of Bob Hendley, picked up the victory.

Johnson Wins In Battle For Fight Purse

By GEORGE ESPER

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Harold Johnson, the National Boxing Association light heavyweight champion, has won the first round of a legal bout with his manager over purses and now has his sights set on Doug Jones in their 15-round nationally televised title bout at the arena Saturday night.

"I feel better now," said Johnson, 33, who had threatened to pull out of the fight if his purse were held in escrow by legal action or if his manager, Pat Olivieri, was allowed to take the manager's share immediately after the fight.

But late Thursday it was decided after conferences among attorneys, a judge and Alfred M. Klein, a member of the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission, that Johnson's 50 per cent share of the purse would not be held up.

But Olivieri's 50 per cent cut will be impounded pending the outcome of the champion's suit to break his contract with the manager and collect $4,600 which he claims Olivieri owes him from the Eddie Cotton fight last August. A hearing is set for June 4.

Johnson has claimed it was stipulated when he signed the contract for the Jones' fight he was to get his share immediately while Olivieri's would be held up pending disposition of the case.

Johnson and Jones, 25, the No. 1 contender from New York, who has lost only once in 20 fights, finished up the heavy work in their training grind. Both planned loosening up workouts today before Saturday's noon weigh-in.

Salineville To Plan For Little Loop

SALINEVILLE — Plans for the summer program of the Little League will be mapped at a public meeting Tuesday night at 8 at the high school Lloyd Meister, president, announced.

Tryouts for newcomers in the league, for boys aged 9 to 12, will be held May 19, and a work day for fathers will be held at the athletic field May 26.

The season will be opened June 2 with a double header followed by a parade from the township house, led by the High School Band.

The four teams in the league and the managers are the Indians with Oliver Powell and James Drugan, the Dodgers with Wilfred Burnip and Philip Maher, the Cubs with John Bettis and Meister and the Yankees with Wayne Madison.

Boxing Probe Group Sets Public Hearings

NEW YORK (AP) — A joint legislative committee investigating boxing—which could conceivably put an end to the sport in New York State—will begin public hearings here May 21.

The committee said the hearings in New York City will deal first with the welterweight championship fight between Emile Griffith and Benny (Kid) Paret in Madison Square Garden, in which Paret sustained fatal injuries.

Assemblyman Howard H. Plumadore, Republican from Saranac Lake who announced the dates Thursday, declined to say, however, who would be subpoenaed. "We'll name names at the hearings," he said.

NEW YORK (AP) — Bernard Korman, a Brooklyn cab driver, discovered a pocketbook in his cab Thursday night containing $3,009.05 and close to $1,000 in French francs. He turned it over to police in Brooklyn's 62nd Precinct.

The officers, who said the money belonged to a woman who is leaving for France today, said Korman showed up with the money before the loss had been reported.

Teachers' Group Calls For More Organizers

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A call for more organizers went out Thursday as the 28th annual three-day convention of the Ohio Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO opened here.

Mrs. Dorothy Matheny of Toledo, a vice president of the American federation, said lack of organizers has caused the group to miss chances to open new local chapters around the state.

Detroit Tiger Manager Bob Scheffing managed Washington, Pa., to second place in the Pennsylvania State League in 1939, two years before he broke into the majors as a catcher with the Chicago Cubs.

One-Hitter Ends Midland's Hopes

The win was the seventh in eight games for the Lions. They have two games remaining with Monaca and South Side. A win in either game will assure New Brighton of the title.

Joe Holava was the only Midland player to collect a base hit. It came in the fourth inning, the only inning that Midland threatened seriously.

Watson had retired the first 11 Leopard batters to face him before he gave up a free pass to Buddy Reed with one out in the fourth.

Reedpromptly stole second and Holava then came through with the only Midland hit of the game, Reed stopping at third and Holava moving into second on the throw back to the infield.

Watson then got Dave Troup to pop up to third and Pete Cilli to roll out to short to end the inning.

Watson struck out and walked three batters in his seven innings of pitching. Midland right-hander Chuck Krause went the distance for Midland and gave up seven hits, while walking two and striking out five.

New Brighton scored its two runs in the first two innings. In the first the Lions loaded the bases on two singles and a fielder's choice.

Reed's throwing error in attempting to cut a runner down at the plate brought the Lions their first tally. In the second inning, Joe Pasquale led off with a walk, stole second and scored on Watson's two-out single to center.

Coach Picks Student Manager For Punting

Both regular kickers are injured.

"That's our boy," Mitchell said.

TV Viewers Don't Get Summer Rates

Television is the only business in the country that can afford to drop 30 per cent of its customers every summer and do nothing about it.

Hal Humphrey

A. C. Nielsen Jr., who makes a nice living telling the networks how many people are watching their shows, disclosed recently that "the total volume of evening viewing during the summer is typically some 30 per cent below winter levels." Instead of warning TV that the day might come when these summer TV deserters failed to return in the fall, Nielsen preferred to point out the benefits of rerunning the shows each summer.

ACCORDING TO his slide rule, the "share of audience" for the repeaters is almost the same as when they are shown the first time around. He could have pointed out that this is natural enough, since those who do turn on their TV sets in the summer can't see anything much but these repeats anyway — but he didn't.

The share - of - audience figure Nielsen conjures up makes the sponsor happy, because he gets a bargain price for these repeat shows. It's a cozy arrangement for the sponsors and networks, but not much of a break for the viewers.

AMONG NEW shows this summer, beginning June 25, will be Comedian Steve Allen's new late-night show which Westinghouse Broadcasting Co. is syndicating.

Allen always said, after leaving the NBC "Tonight" show in 1955, that he never wanted another five-a-week job — especially for 90 minutes each night.

His alibi now is that he will tape the five shows in three nights. Another attractive lure, he says, is the fact that Westinghouse is giving him twice as much dough as NBC paid him for the same amount of work.

"I also will have more freedom," says Steve. "Basically it will be a comedy show, but when I want to I also can do some serious things."

DR. FRANK STANTON, CBS president, has said that Fred Friendly's excellent "CBS Reports" series is being moved next fall from 10 p.m. Thursdays to 7:30 p.m. Wednesdays to allow the younger audience to get in on these educational programs.

Friendly, however, isn't so sure this was the only motive.

"Really," he says, "I don't know the reason for the change. Isn't it possible, though, that 7:30 Wednesday was not sold and that CBS was able to sell 10 on Thursday?"

You may have a point, Fred, because at 7:30 p.m. Wednesdays next season you'll be on against "Wagon Train," which moves to ABC, and at NBC at that hour there's a new Western called "The Virginian."

If "CBS Reports" can lure kids from those two shows, then Fred Friendly should be in line for the Medal of Honor.

THERE ARE indications of an interesting trend in TV commercials. A John Maloney wired TV columnists last week that his company was premiering a wordless commercial on NBC's "Tonight" show.

The title for the commercial (now they have titles?) was "Music To Shave Your Legs By," and Maloney was positively lyrical about the melody and the setting "for feminine grooming in dimly lit rooms with the new shaver with the exclusive built-in light."

Maybe the razor people will get jealous and have their baseball players just shave on TV without that awful dialogue, and the more dimly lit the room is, the better.

BOB HOPE didn't do a TV show last week, but he sold 40 acres of land to Revue-MCA, the TV production company.

The land was in Burbank, next to the Revue-Universal movie lot, and that made it as valuable as a piece of Ft. Knox, Ky.

Still, Mrs. Woods hasn't budged. She uses candles for light. She wears extra clothing and fur-trimmed galoshes to keep warm.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

TV Viewers Don't Get Summer Rates

Television is the only business in the country that can afford to drop 30 per cent of its customers every summer and do nothing about it.

Hal Humphrey

A. C. Nielsen Jr., who makes a nice living telling the networks how many people are watching their shows, disclosed recently that "the total volume of evening viewing during the summer is typically some 30 per cent below winter levels." Instead of warning TV that the day might come when these summer TV deserters failed to return in the fall, Nielsen preferred to point out the benefits of rerunning the shows each summer.

ACCORDING TO his slide rule, the "share of audience" for the repeaters is almost the same as when they are shown the first time around. He could have pointed out that this is natural enough, since those who do turn on their TV sets in the summer can't see anything much but these repeats anyway — but he didn't.

The share - of - audience figure Nielsen conjures up makes the sponsor happy, because he gets a bargain price for these repeat shows. It's a cozy arrangement for the sponsors and networks, but not much of a break for the viewers.

AMONG NEW shows this summer, beginning June 25, will be Comedian Steve Allen's new late-night show which Westinghouse Broadcasting Co. is syndicating.

Allen always said, after leaving the NBC "Tonight" show in 1955, that he never wanted another five-a-week job — especially for 90 minutes each night.

His alibi now is that he will tape the five shows in three nights. Another attractive lure, he says, is the fact that Westinghouse is giving him twice as much dough as NBC paid him for the same amount of work.

"I also will have more freedom," says Steve. "Basically it will be a comedy show, but when I want to I also can do some serious things."

DR. FRANK STANTON, CBS president, has said that Fred Friendly's excellent "CBS Reports" series is being moved next fall from 10 p.m. Thursdays to 7:30 p.m. Wednesdays to allow the younger audience to get in on these educational programs.

Friendly, however, isn't so sure this was the only motive. "Really," he says, "I don't know the reason for the change. Isn't it possible, though, that 7:30 Wednesday was not sold and that CBS was able to sell 10 on Thursday?"

You may have a point, Fred, because at 7:30 p.m. Wednesdays next season you'll be on against "Wagon Train," which moves to ABC, and at NBC at that hour there's a new Western called "The Virginian."

If "CBS Reports" can lure kids from those two shows, then Fred Friendly should be in line for the Medal of Honor.

THERE ARE indications of an interesting trend in TV commercials. A John Maloney wired TV columnists last week that his company was premiering a wordless commercial on NBC's "Tonight" show.

The title for the commercial (now they have titles?) was "Music To Shave Your Legs By," and Maloney was positively lyrical about the melody and the setting "for feminine grooming in dimly lit rooms with the new shaver with the exclusive built-in light."

Maybe the razor people will get jealous and have their baseball players just shave on TV without that awful dialogue, and the more dimly lit the room is, the better.

BOB HOPE didn't do a TV show last week, but he sold 40 acres of land to Revue-MCA, the TV production company.

The land was in Burbank, next to the Revue-Universal movie lot, and that made it as valuable as a piece of Ft. Knox, Ky.

Milk Promotion Drive Launched By County Group

A crusade to get people to drink more milk has been opened in Columbiana, Stark, Carroll and Mahoning Counties by the Northeastern Ohio Milk Promotion Committee.

The OMPC was formed two months ago to encourage civic and service clubs, churches and restaurants to serve milk with meals. Columbiana County is way out in front progress-wise, sponsors said.

Of the 32 civic and service clubs in the county, 14 already are serving milk with their meals and others are joining weekly.

Those serving milk include Ruritan Clubs from North Georgetown, West Township, Lisbon, Damascus, Hanover Township, Winona Township, Unity Township and Fairfield Township, the Lisbon Kiwanis Club, Salem Rotary Club and the Lions Clubs of Homeworth and New Waterford.

Members of the county milk promotion committee are Leonard Lowmiller of Minerva R. D. 2, chairman; Arthur Cowden and Harry Lippincott of East Rochester R. D. 1; Donald Rupert and W. W. Baughman of New Waterford; Hugh McCracken, Orle Denny and Mrs. Orlan Hoopes of Beloit R. D. 2; Mrs. Ernest Bartels of Salem R. D. 1; Galen Greenisen and Eldon Groves of Salem R. D. 3; J. Herbert Thompson and Frank Fisher Jr. of East Liverpool R. D. 2; Hugh Smith of Wellsville; C. A. Houlette of Columbiana R. D. 2; Mrs. Jack Pozenel of West Point; Ralph Schneider of North Georgetown and Floyd Lower of Lisbon, secretary.

City Family's Son To Give Radio Talk

Americans will have to be trained to make constructive use of their dramatically increasing leisure time if this apparent blessing is not to boomerang, according to Hershel B. Sarbin, vice president and board member of the Ziff-Davis Publishing Co.

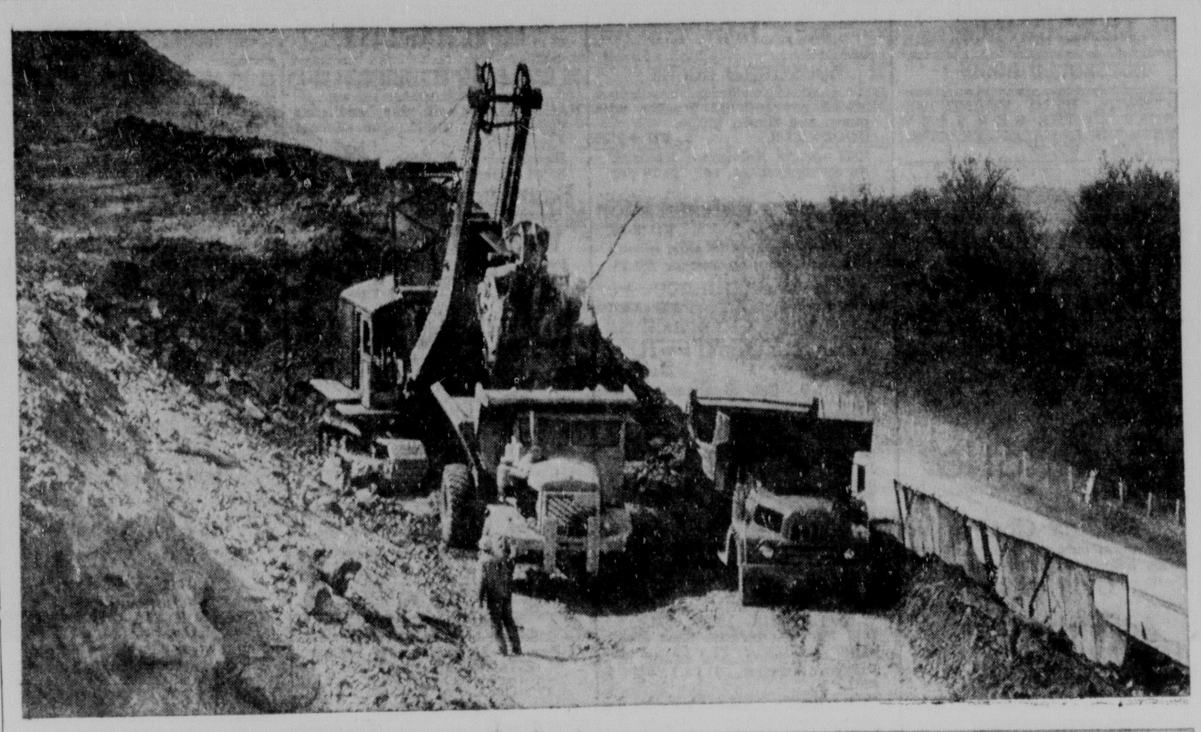

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph I. Sarbin, 307 W. 3rd St.

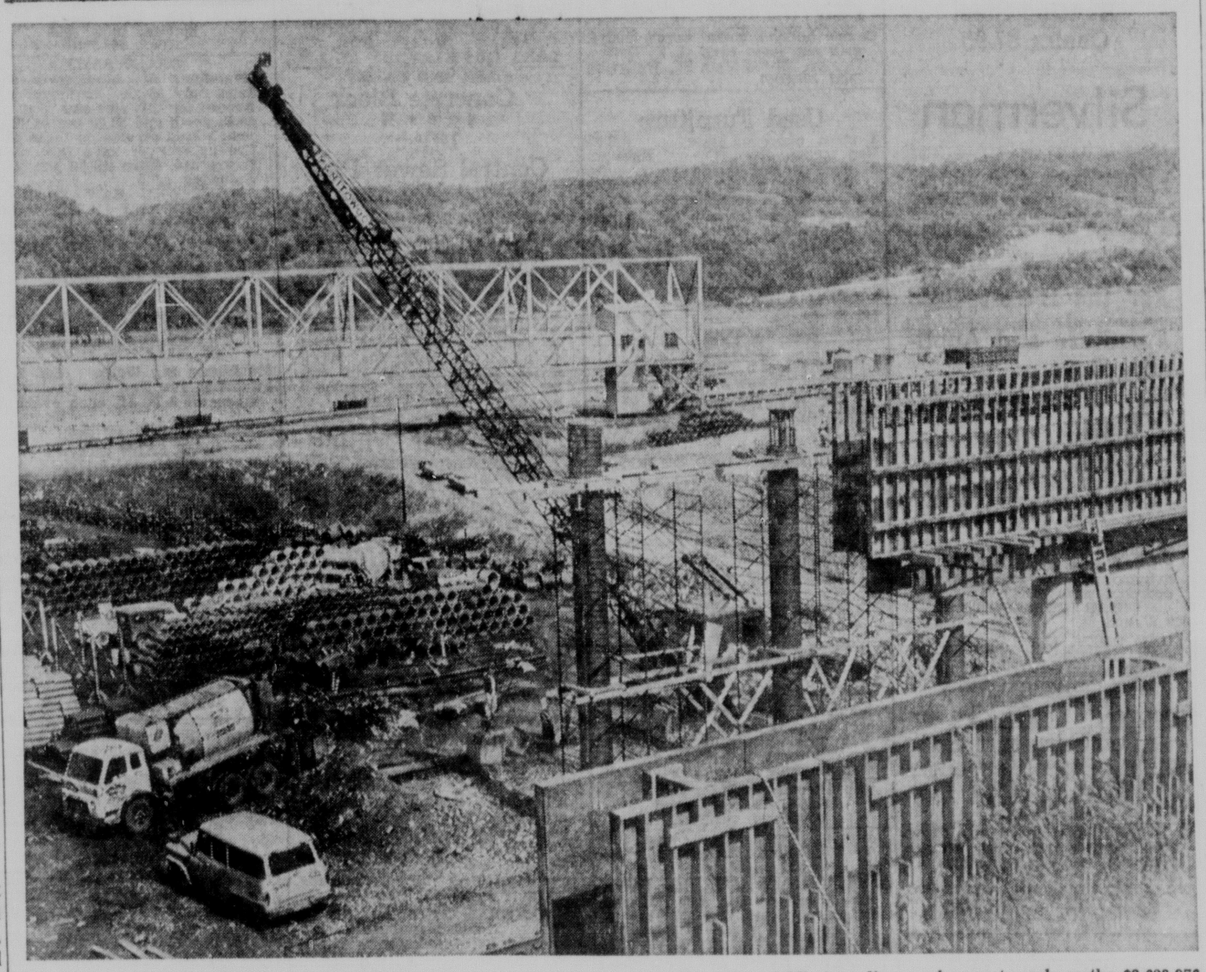

Speaking as a member of a panel on Northwestern University's Reviewing Stand, to be presented on the Mutual radio network next week, Sarbin said traditionally Americans have been taught that work is "virtuous" and idleness is "evil."

Because there has been no preparation for Americans to accept the gift of leisure time, serious problems have arisen. One such problem has been referred to by psychiatrists as "Sunday neurosis" and "retirement neurosis."

Aide To May Queen

LISBON — Mrs. Kaye Rodi Kessler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Kennedy, 637 N. Market St., is a member of the May Queen Court at Mt. Union College at Alliance where Sandra Peterson of Canton, 1962 Queen, will reign over ceremonies Saturday.

RELOCATION OF ROUTE 7 PROGRESSES. Crews of the S. J. Groves & Son Co. of Minneapolis are shown at work on the $2,623,976 relocation of a 2.5-mile stretch of Route 7 from Flagpole Hill to Stratton. A shovel dumps a bucketload of dirt and rock into a big earthmover as a private dump truck waits loading. Some 700,000 cubic yards of dirt and rock must be moved to clear the right-of-way. Some of the dirt is being used to fill the area behind the pier in the lower photo where the new highway will cross the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks and the Ohio Edison Co.'s coal conveyor belt. The big crane prepares to drop a bucket of cement into the cylindrical pier forms. In the background are present Route 7 and the utility's big bridge to carry the coal beltline across the highway. The other highway is Goose Run Rd.

2 Seniors Enlist In Marine Corps

Two more East Liverpool High School seniors have enlisted in the Marine Corps under the 120-day delay program. They are:

Homer Clyde Dillon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer C. Dillon, 815 Oakland Ave., and William Albert Henrich, son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Henrich of Post Office Box 412, Station A.

Both enlisted under the "Buddy" program and elected Aug. 24 as the date to depart for their training.

They will go to Parris Island, S. C., for 80-days recruit training and another four weeks advance training at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

Upon completion of their training, they will be given a 20-day leave at home before being assigned to one of the over 470 occupational specialties in the Marine Corps or to a new duty station.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Busy Girl Wants To Help Her Mother

When we hear of a girl who wants to help her mother at home but is not allowed to do so, it's news. A girl, 14, writes from Ontario, Canada:

Dr. Garry Meyers

"Some years ago I asked you for advice in getting along with a playmate of mine. You answered me well, and Linda and I are very close friends. Now I am 14. I take piano lessons and I am in the eighth grade (piano). I am in my second year of high school, specializing in languages, although modern history is also very interesting to me.

"Four nights after school I work in the school library and I am a member of the glee club and 'triple trio' which have a total of three meetings a week.

"SATURDAY MORNING is occupied with theory lessons and on Saturday afternoon I usually go the library for extra school projects. These projects — necessary, I must add — are now two speeches, a four-page typewritten essay on Duplessio and a science project.

"It isn't hard to see that I have a full schedule, is it?

"Still, I wish that my mother would let me do more around the house. That may seem rather a switch, but Mother says I am too busy to help. Of course, I make my bed every morning before I go to my music lessons and I get my own breakfast and pack my lunch, as well as doing the dinner dishes.

"ON SATURDAYS, I love to clean my room, but by the time I get home from theory, Mother is tired waiting and has done it herself.

"Cooking, one of my favorite occupations, is one of the things I am allowed to do, but usually Mother tells me to study or rest. Ironing is, apparently, entirely too much for me to attempt.

"I get along well with both of my parents and we seldom disagree, but why on earth won't she let me help her? She is strict in everything else, although by strict I don't wish to give the impression that she is mean.

"Mother has a heart condition and it really would be better if she let someone help her. I would scrub floors or anything.

"Although music and library work mean a lot to me, if you think I should quit the extra-curricular activities I would."

MY REPLY IN part:

I am sure your mother would let you help with her work at home if she thought you weren't burdened with all the things you are doing. Why don't you sit down with your mother and write down the things you have to do and your extra-curricular interests and activities and the time it takes to do all of them?

Then I think you will agree with your mother that you should cut out a number of these extra things. They are all good, but you must have some time, not only to help around the home but just to relax and have fun.

You must have a wonderful mother, and I know she has a wonderful daughter.

My bulletins, "Educating Your Child in Responsibility" and "How to Teach Child to Help at Home," may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Home Demonstration Groups Will Convene

Hammondsville Memorial Slated

HAMMONDSVILLE—The schedule for the annual Memorial Day services Wednesday, May 30, have been announced by American Legion Post 742.

Services will be held at the Port Homer honor roll at 9:30 a. m. followed by a memorial at 10 a. m. at the New Somerset Methodist Church Cemetery and 10:30 at the New Somerset Christian Church Cemetery.

Services at the honor roll here will be held at 11. Any veteran of the community interested in participating may report in uniform at the post home at 8:30 a. m.

Officers will be elected at another meeting Tuesday night, according to Harry Springer, publicity officer.

Mental Health Aide Resigns Beaver Post

The resignation of Mrs. E. M. Chapman as executive director of the Beaver County Mental Health Society was accepted with regret by the Board of Directors at a meeting Tuesday at the Penn-Beaver Hotel at Rochester.

The board said it would prefer filling the position with someone from Beaver County who already knows the county and its people. Applications and a job description are available at the society's office in the Ft. McIntosh Bank Building at Beaver. The society's phone number is SP. 5-4165.

The Friendship Rooms, located in Ambridge and Beaver Falls, were discussed in detail by Mrs. Esther Sorg, chairman of the Friendship Room committee. C. A. Conklin of Beaver, president, praised the work of Mrs. Sorg and Mrs. Charles Mann of Beaver Falls, who have worked as leaders of the volunteers who help with the program.

Milk Promotion Drive Launched By County Group

A crusade to get people to drink more milk has been opened in Columbiana, Stark, Carroll and Mahoning Counties by the Northeastern Ohio Milk Promotion Committee.

The OMPC was formed two months ago to encourage civic and service clubs, churches and restaurants to serve milk with meals. Columbiana County is way out in front progress-wise, sponsors said.

Of the 32 civic and service clubs in the county, 14 already are serving milk with their meals and others are joining weekly.

Those serving milk include Ruritan Clubs from North Georgetown, West Township, Lisbon, Damascus, Hanover Township, Winona Township, Unity Township and Fairfield Township, the Lisbon Kiwanis Club, Salem Rotary Club and the Lions Clubs of Homeworth and New Waterford.

Members of the county milk promotion committee are Leonard Lowmiller of Minerva R. D. 2, chairman; Arthur Cowden and Harry Lippincott of East Rochester R. D. 1; Donald Rupert and W. W. Baughman of New Waterford; Hugh McCracken, Orle Denny and Mrs. Orlan Hoopes of Beloit R. D. 2; Mrs. Ernest Bartels of Salem R. D. 1; Galen Greenisen and Eldon Groves of Salem R. D. 3; J. Herbert Thompson and Frank Fisher Jr. of East Liverpool R. D. 2; Hugh Smith of Wellsville; C. A. Houlette of Columbiana R. D. 2; Mrs. Jack Pozenel of West Point; Ralph Schneider of North Georgetown and Floyd Lower of Lisbon, secretary.

City Family's Son To Give Radio Talk

Americans will have to be trained to make constructive use of their dramatically increasing leisure time if this apparent blessing is not to boomerang, according to Hershel B. Sarbin, vice president and board member of the Ziff-Davis Publishing Co.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph I. Sarbin, 307 W. 3rd St.

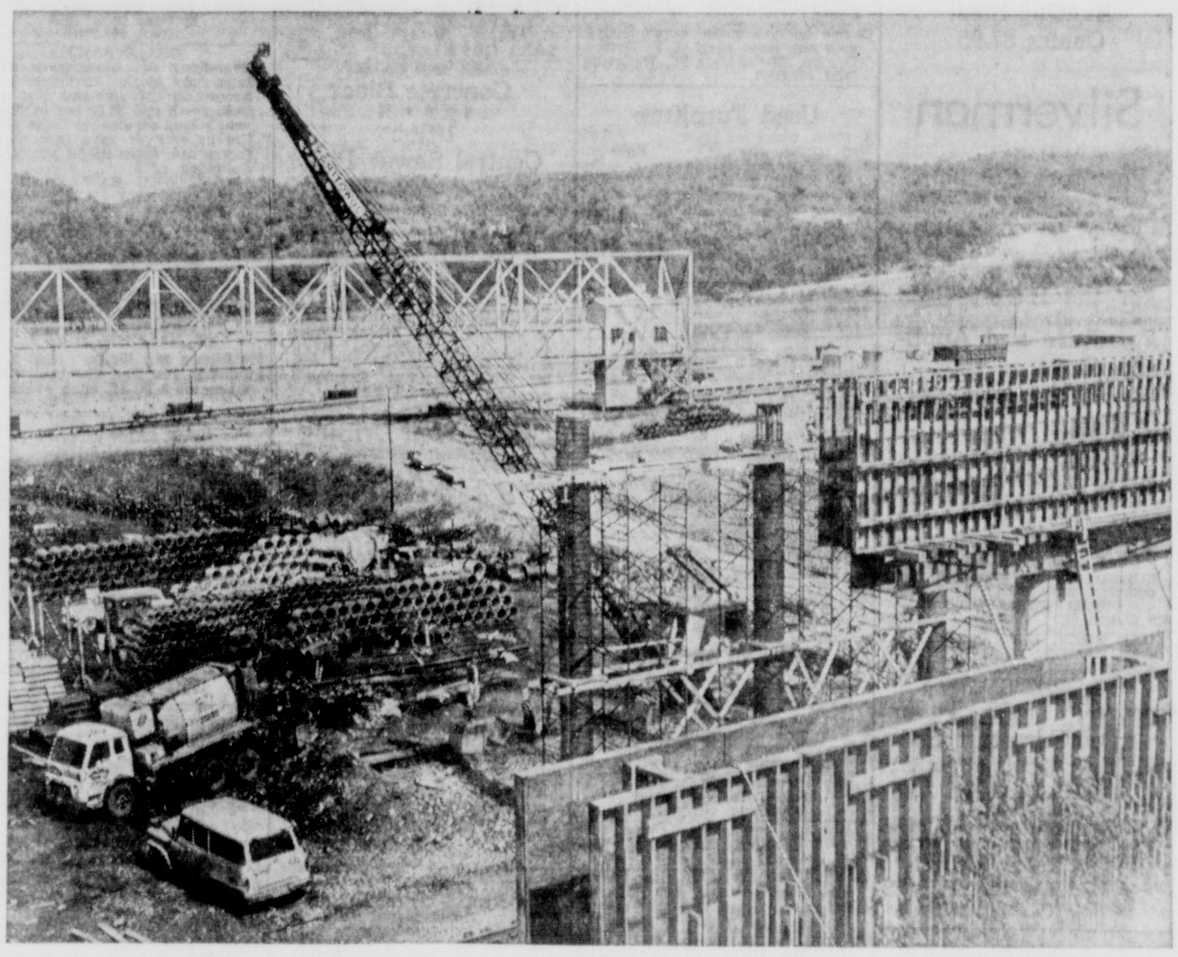

Speaking as a member of a panel on Northwestern University's Reviewing Stand, to be presented on the Mutual radio network next week, Sarbin said traditionally Americans have been taught that work is "virtuous" and idleness is "evil."

Because there has been no preparation for Americans to accept the gift of leisure time, serious problems have arisen. One such problem has been referred to by psychiatrists as "Sunday neurosis" and "retirement neurosis."

Aide To May Queen

LISBON — Mrs. Kaye Rodi Kessler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Kennedy, 637 N. Market St., is a member of the May Queen Court at Mt. Union College at Alliance where Sandra Peterson of Canton, 1962 Queen, will reign over ceremonies Saturday.

RELOCATION OF ROUTE 7 PROGRESSES. Crews of the S. J. Groves & Son Co. of Minneapolis are shown at work on the $2,623,976 relocation of a 2.5-mile stretch of Route 7 from Flagpole Hill to Stratton. A shovel dumps a bucketload of dirt and rock into a big earthmover as a private dump truck waits loading. Some 700,000 cubic yards of dirt and rock must be moved to clear the right-of-way. Some of the dirt is being used to fill the area behind the pier in the lower photo where the new highway will cross the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks and the Ohio Edison Co.'s coal conveyor belt. The big crane prepares to drop a bucket of cement into the cylindrical pier forms. In the background are present Route 7 and the utility's big bridge to carry the coal beltline across the highway. The other highway is Goose Run Rd.

Both enlisted under the "Buddy" program and elected Aug. 24 as the date to depart for their training.

They will go to Parris Island, S. C., for 80-days recruit training and another four weeks advance training at Camp Lejeune, N. C.

Upon completion of their training, they will be given a 20-day leave at home before being assigned to one of the over 470 occupational specialties in the Marine Corps or to a new duty station.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Busy Girl Wants To Help Her Mother

When we hear of a girl who wants to help her mother at home but is not allowed to do so, it's news. A girl, 14, writes from Ontario, Canada:

Dr. Garry Meyers

"Some years ago I asked you for advice in getting along with a playmate of mine. You answered me well, and Linda and I are very close friends. Now I am 14. I take piano lessons and I am in the eighth grade (piano). I am in my second year of high school, specializing in languages, although modern history is also very interesting to me.

"Four nights after school I work in the school library and I am a member of the glee club and 'triple trio' which have a total of three meetings a week.

"SATURDAY MORNING is occupied with theory lessons and on Saturday afternoon I usually go the library for extra school projects. These projects — necessary, I must add — are now two speeches, a four-page typewritten essay on Duplessio and a science project.

"It isn't hard to see that I have a full schedule, is it?

"Still, I wish that my mother would let me do more around the house. That may seem rather a switch, but Mother says I am too busy to help. Of course, I make my bed every morning before I go to my music lessons and I get my own breakfast and pack my lunch, as well as doing the dinner dishes.

"ON SATURDAYS, I love to clean my room, but by the time I get home from theory, Mother is tired waiting and has done it herself.

"Cooking, one of my favorite occupations, is one of the things I am allowed to do, but usually Mother tells me to study or rest. Ironing is, apparently, entirely too much for me to attempt.

"I get along well with both of my parents and we seldom disagree, but why on earth won't she let me help her? She is strict in everything else, although by strict I don't wish to give the impression that she is mean.

"Mother has a heart condition and it really would be better if she let someone help her. I would scrub floors or anything.

"Although music and library work mean a lot to me, if you think I should quit the extra-curricular activities I would."

MY REPLY IN part:

I am sure your mother would let you help with her work at home if she thought you weren't burdened with all the things you are doing. Why don't you sit down with your mother and write down the things you have to do and your extra-curricular interests and activities and the time it takes to do all of them?

Then I think you will agree with your mother that you should cut out a number of these extra things. They are all good, but you must have some time, not only to help around the home but just to relax and have fun.

You must have a wonderful mother, and I know she has a wonderful daughter.

My bulletins, "Educating Your Child in Responsibility" and "How to Teach Child to Help at Home," may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Home Demonstration Groups Will Convene

Hammondsville Memorial Slated

HAMMONDSVILLE—The schedule for the annual Memorial Day services Wednesday, May 30, have been announced by American Legion Post 742.

Services will be held at the Port Homer honor roll at 9:30 a. m. followed by a memorial at 10 a. m. at the New Somerset Methodist Church Cemetery and 10:30 at the New Somerset Christian Church Cemetery.

Services at the honor roll here will be held at 11. Any veteran of the community interested in participating may report in uniform at the post home at 8:30 a. m.

Officers will be elected at another meeting Tuesday night, according to Harry Springer, publicity officer.

Mental Health Aide Resigns Beaver Post

The resignation of Mrs. E. M. Chapman as executive director of the Beaver County Mental Health Society was accepted with regret by the Board of Directors at a meeting Tuesday at the Penn-Beaver Hotel at Rochester.

The board said it would prefer filling the position with someone from Beaver County who already knows the county and its people. Applications and a job description are available at the society's office in the Ft. McIntosh Bank Building at Beaver. The society's phone number is SP. 5-4165.

The Friendship Rooms, located in Ambridge and Beaver Falls, were discussed in detail by Mrs. Esther Sorg, chairman of the Friendship Room committee. C. A. Conklin of Beaver, president, praised the work of Mrs. Sorg and Mrs. Charles Mann of Beaver Falls, who have worked as leaders of the volunteers who help with the program.

WIND

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Wind is air in motion. It is started moving by a very complicated chain of events. There is a belt of warm air. We know that warm air rises, and as this belt of air begins to rise, cooler air pushes to the spot which the warm air has left vacant. As the warm air goes further up, it begins to get cooler and goes back down again. Here is air moving about, and therefore it is wind. On a world-wide basis, the warm belt of air is over the equator. This region is the hottest part of the surface of the earth, so its air is also the warmest air. It rises. The cooler air coming from other parts of the earth rush into the area which the warm air has vacated. The warm air, rising far enough, begins to cool and to go downward again, toward the North and South Pole. Meanwhile, the cool air which replaced the warm air at the equator has begun to get warmer, as air at the equator is always being heated. It starts to rise and the entire process goes on and on.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Almost every locality has a particular type of dangerous wind condition which comes at various times during the year. The east, for example, has hurricanes. Other areas have tornadoes and cyclones. What is the most dangerous condition near your locality? Find out all you can about its cause and control. What safety precautions are taken?

School Work Bids Opened

Low offers totaling $6,860 for renovating four restrooms in the high school were received when the Board of Education opened bids Thursday afernoon.

Floyd C. Cox submitted the apparent low offer of $3,599 to remodel the boys' and girls' restrooms on the lower floor while Paul Brown of Calcutta was low to renovate the restrooms on the third floor with a bid of $3,261.

Three firms submitted offers to the board for the two phases of the job.

Besides Cox, the other offers for repairing the lower floor restrooms were Brown, $4,058, and Potters Construction Co. of Calcutta, $4,549.

Brown bid $3,261 for the work on the restrooms on the top floor while Cox asked $3,589. Potters bid the same figure as for the first floor — $4,549.

Chester Club To Send Two To Youth Camp

Sponsorship of a Chester High School boy and girl to a summer camp was approved by the Chester Lions Club at a meeting Thursday night at the clubhouse.

Camp Horseshoe near Parsons will be held June 10-16.

Going Up, Not Down

Chester Hill Mishap 'In Reverse'

Bystanders are shown about the overturned rig of Stanley Lonick of Burgettstown, who escaped injury when his truck tilted over on its side as he made turn from Carolina Ave.up the hill.

Lonick told Patrolman Clarence Lennens his rig, carrying 17 tons of steel coils, overturned as the load shifted when he made a wide turn at the foot of the hill about 11:45 a. m.

Lennens, who cited the driver for failure to have his vehicle under control, said the steel was not blocked in the trailer. The coils broke through the roof.

Two wreckers pulled the truck onto its wheels about 6 p. m. after the load was transferred to another trailer.

West Point Woman Named Head Of County PTA Unit

Mrs. Veronica Wolski of West Point was elected president of the Columbiana County Area Parent-Teacher Association Council at a meeting of the Board of Managers Thursday night at Salineville High School. She succeeds Mrs. Margaret Dysert of Wellsville.

Others named were Loren Ruff, county elementary school supervisor, first vice president; James Steiner of Cannons Mills, second vice president; Mrs. Marjorie Kinzel of Wellsville, third vice president.

Clayton Aughinbaugh of Calcutta, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Phillip Frantz of West Point, recording secretary; Mrs. Marie Curry of Wellsville, treasurer; Mrs. Natalie Lewis of Wellsville, historian.and Thomas Doherty of East Liverpool, parliamentarian.

Aughinbaugh headed the nominating committee, which included William Wilson and Mrs. Beulah Franklin of East Liverpool, Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Ruth Green of Substation.

Guests included Mrs. Dorothy Elliott of Alliance, East District director of the Ohio PTA Congress. Mrs. Betty James of Alliance, past district director, was a guest.

Next meeting will be in September when a school of instruction is planned.

Elderly Man Killed

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Authorities said a 64-year-old man was killed early today when he drove his car into the path of a slow-moving freight train.

Dead was Walter S. Barron, of nearby Lake Milton, who was alone in the car.

Grange Scout Troop Presented Charter

Don Ramsey of East Liverpool and Frank Rossi of Wellsville, presented the charter to Boy Scout Troop 15 Thursday evening at the West Point Grange Hall.

The troop completed plans to attend the council camporal at Hammond's Park in Wellsville May 25-27. Thirteen attended the meeting.

Precinct Post Recount Seen

A recount request is expected to be filed with the County Election Board as another aftermath of hotly - contested Democratic races for precinct committeemen's posts in Wellsville at the primaries Tuesday.

Pete Chefalo has indicated to the board he will seek a new tabulation in Precinct 3-B, where he apparently was defeated by a three-vote margin in an attempt to win the committeeman's post from Dominic Cuti.

Chefalo will be required by law to wait until after the Election Board has certified the official returns from the primary. Then he must act within five days. Following the filing of an application, the board must set the recount date within 10 days.

The post sought by Cuti and Chefalo is known officially as member of the County Democratic Central Committee. But the officials are commonly called precinct committeemen because one is elected in each of the 165 precincts in the county.

Contests for the precinct committeemen's posts attracted attention of Wellsville voters Tuesday. They turned out in unusually large numbers because of the hot contests. The most closely-watched race was in Precinct 2-B, where Clarence (Red) Cartwright retained his post by defeating Mayor William Daugherty.

Political observers said the contests were inspired by the organization's dissatisfaction with its treatment by the mayor in questions of appointments and other patronage.

The Election Board continued work today on the official canvass, which began Thursday morning. The job will be finished sometime tonight, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said. The figures will be certified under Saturday's date to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown at Columbus.

The show will be presented at the school at 8 p.m. to raise funds for projects.

Atty. D. Barry Dickson, new president, and other officers were installed by Joseph Kula Kulifay, past president. Dickson spoke on "What Is PTO Doing for Our Schools?"

Next meeting will be in September.

School Work Bids Opened

Low offers totaling $6,860 for renovating four restrooms in the high school were received when the Board of Education opened bids Thursday afernoon.

Floyd C. Cox submitted the apparent low offer of $3,599 to remodel the boys' and girls' restrooms on the lower floor while Paul Brown of Calcutta was low to renovate the restrooms on the third floor with a bid of $3,261.

Three firms submitted offers to the board for the two phases of the job.

Besides Cox, the other offers for repairing the lower floor restrooms were Brown, $4,058, and Potters Construction Co. of Calcutta, $4,549.

Brown bid $3,261 for the work on the restrooms on the top floor while Cox asked $3,589. Potters bid the same figure as for the first floor — $4,549.

No action will be taken on the bids until the board's meeting May 21.

Going Up, Not Down

Chester Hill Mishap 'In Reverse'

Bystanders are shown about the overturned rig of Stanley Lonick of Burgettstown, who escaped injury when his truck tilted over on its side as he made turn from Carolina Ave.up the hill.

The intersection has been the scene of many mishaps in which trucks and cars have come down the hill out of control and left the roadway, often ramming the service station in the background.

Lonick told Patrolman Clarence Lennens his rig, carrying 17 tons of steel coils, overturned as the load shifted when he made a wide turn at the foot of the hill about 11:45 a. m.

Lennens, who cited the driver for failure to have his vehicle under control, said the steel was not blocked in the trailer. The coils broke through the roof.

Two wreckers pulled the truck onto its wheels about 6 p. m. after the load was transferred to another trailer.

Elderly Man Killed

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Authorities said a 64-year-old man was killed early today when he drove his car into the path of a slow-moving freight train.

Dead was Walter S. Barron, of nearby Lake Milton, who was alone in the car.

Grange Scout Troop Presented Charter

Don Ramsey of East Liverpool and Frank Rossi of Wellsville, presented the charter to Boy Scout Troop 15 Thursday evening at the West Point Grange Hall.

The troop completed plans to attend the council camporal at Hammond's Park in Wellsville May 25-27. Thirteen attended the meeting.

Precinct Post Recount Seen

A recount request is expected to be filed with the County Election Board as another aftermath of hotly - contested Democratic races for precinct committeemen's posts in Wellsville at the primaries Tuesday.

Pete Chefalo has indicated to the board he will seek a new tabulation in Precinct 3-B, where he apparently was defeated by a three-vote margin in an attempt to win the committeeman's post from Dominic Cuti.

Chefalo will be required by law to wait until after the Election Board has certified the official returns from the primary. Then he must act within five days. Following the filing of an application, the board must set the recount date within 10 days.

The post sought by Cuti and Chefalo is known officially as member of the County Democratic Central Committee. But the officials are commonly called precinct committeemen because one is elected in each of the 165 precincts in the county.

Contests for the precinct committeemen's posts attracted attention of Wellsville voters Tuesday. They turned out in unusually large numbers because of the hot contests. The most closely-watched race was in Precinct 2-B, where Clarence (Red) Cartwright retained his post by defeating Mayor William Daugherty.

Political observers said the contests were inspired by the organization's dissatisfaction with its treatment by the mayor in questions of appointments and other patronage.

The Election Board continued work today on the official canvass, which began Thursday morning. The job will be finished sometime tonight, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said. The figures will be certified under Saturday's date to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown at Columbus.
